WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP BASEBALL GAMES BEGIN

Quaker City Crew Outhit and Outfielded Giants At Every Stage of the Game—Marquard and Crandall Batted Out—Bender Hard Hit—"Home Run" Baker Again.

New York, Oct. 7.—Outhitting and outfielding the Giants in the opening game of the world's series, the Philadelphia Athletics defeated the National League representatives at the Polo Grounds this afternoon by a score of 6 runs to 4. So complete was the supremacy of the American League champions in the initial contest that the victory appeared to be but a continuation of the series of 1911 when the Athletics won the title of that year from the Giants by four games out of six. As if to heighten the illustration there were several feature plays that might have been re-produced, so closely did they resemble those of 24 months ago.

The game was witnessed by a gathering of spectators that taxed the capacity of the New York club stadium and swelled the coffers of those financially interested to the extent of more than $75,000. The exact number of fans who paid admission to the stands was 36,291 and the day's receipts amounted to $75,352. These figures as furnished by the National Commission occasioned surprise for the attendance fell short by more than 2,000 of that of the first game of 1911, although so far as could be seen there appeared to be just as many persons present as was the case two years ago.

Certainly the scenes both inside and outside the baseball arena equalled those of any preceding world's series so far as the gathering was concerned. Including those who witnessed the game in official capacity they crossed the 40,000 mark and fully half that number failed to gain access to the park. So great were the throngs that surrounded the Polo Grounds that it was necessary to call out the police reserves. Elevated service to the ground gates was discontinued in order that the thousands might not be augmented.

Much as the local contingent of fandom was chagrined at the defeat at the Giants, there was none who could gainsay the right of the Athletics to the fruits of their victory. The Mackmen went about their task in a business-like manner and before two hours had passed demonstrated that for the day at least theirs was the better team. They outbatted the Giants, driving both Marquard and Crandall from the mound, with fusillades of long hits. Infielding too, the standard bearers of the American League outshone the representatives of the elder association.

Each team gathered 11 hits from the delivery of the rival twirlers but the Athletics' drives were more timely and of greater length. The Giants gathered 12 bases from their hits while their opponents' total was 20. The breaks that occurred in the fielding tested the mettle of the Philadelphia club to a greater extent than that of the New York players, for with few exceptions the Athletics' chances were harder than those offered the Giants' infield and outfield.

It was Centerfielder Shafer's misjudging of Schang's drive to deep center that really paved the way for the Athletics' victory. The Athletics seized the opening and took the lead, never to be headed. The Giants started a rally in the fifth inning, which netted three runs, but the Mackmen came back with another in the eighth and clinched the victory. It has been said that every world's series develops a hero and the Athletics lost no time in seeking the laurels in this direction. Eddie Collins played a remarkable game at second base, making four put outs and six assists without error. He also figured with Barry and McInnis in the lone double play of the game, which stopped a Giant rally in the seventh inning.

Collins, however, had no monopoly on the hero's glory for John Franklin Baker and Chief Bender did excellent work and it entitled them to special recognition. Baker history repeats itself when he drove a home run hit into the grandstand back of right field, scoring Collins from second ahead of him. The situation and hit was much the same as in the second game of the 1911 series when Baker lifted the ball over the fence and paved the way for an Athletic victory.

To Bender goes the credit for outpitching both Marquard and Crandall and showing skill and nerve in several trying places. The tall Indian had both speed and a "break" on his ball and tightened up when hits meant runs.

By outlasting both Marquard and Crandall he gave the Athletics the edge on tomorrow's game, since McGraw must use either Mathewson or Demaree or come back with Tesreau, while the leader of the Athletics has Plank, Shawkey and Brown, all available for the first game at Shibe Park.

While the game, considered as a whole, seldom touched the high spots of sensational playing, the scenes incidental to the gathering of the spectators were worthy of reproduction by the brush of a great artist. The flocking of the fans began at midnight Monday and as the hours of darkness slipped away and dawn changed into the gray light of a sunless day, the waiting lines grew from hundreds to thousands until when the gates were opened at 9 o'clock there were fully 5,000 of the faithful in the first rush for the choice seats in the unreserved sections of stands and bleachers.

From that hour on, all New York appeared to be migrating to Harlem and the crowds focused upon the Polo Grounds until 1 o'clock every seat had been sold and still the waves of fans beat upon the fences and entrances of the park until the management was obliged to call upon the city authorities for help in holding the disappointed thousands in check. Once the gates rolled back the stands took on a scene of animation that was startling, so quick was the transformation from tiers of wooden seats to rows of bobbing humanity.

Long before noon, the lower sections of the grand stands were filled. As the noon hour struck the last of the $2 seats were sold and before another 60 minutes had passed, standing room alone remained.

An hour or so before the game began the little gate in the center field fence opened and the Giants and Athletics trooped forth to the accompaniment of a burst of cheering that could be heard for blocks. There was little ceremony in this entrance of the actors of the day and soon the Athletics were in the midst of batting practice.

In marked contrast to the scenes of previous years, the great gathering was noticeably undemonstrative. The Athletics apeared to have almost as many supporters present as the Giants and their appearance and every succeeding brilliant play elicited as much applause as did those of the home team. The same conditions prevailed all through the game.

Grooves First One.

Eddie Murphy, playing in his first world's series, faced Marquard when Umpire Klem called "Play Ball." The left handed pitcher grooved the first ball. It was caught by Murphy on the end of his bat, and sent to Murray for an easy catch. Oldring started the Athletic rooters shouting when he slashed a single to right field. Marquard kept the runner close to the bag and finally by a lightning throw caught him napping. Oldring protested against Umpire Egan's decision. On the next ball pitched Collins shot a clean base hit to center. He was left at first when Baker flied out to Burns.

Cheers which greeted the Giants when they came to bat were soon quieted. Shafer, first to face the Chippewa Indian, sent up a fly to Murphy in right field and Doyle flied out to Strunk. Fletcher sent a grounder past shortstop. On the first ball pitched Fletcher tried to steal, but Schang's beautiful throw to Collins beat him and the side was out.

The American League champions went out in order in the second inning, McInnis was out Herzog to Merkle. Strunk struck out and Barry was the third out on a grounder, Fletcher to Merkle.

New York got one man on base in its half of the second, but he did not get beyond first. Burns struck out. McInnis, unassisted, took case of Herzog's grounder. Murray shot a single along the left field foul line. Oldring by good sprinting and a fast throw kept him from stretching it into a two-bagger. The Indian pitcher had to put on more speed when New York's red-skin catcher came to bat. Meyers, however, got to his brother Indian, but the ball shot up in the air and into Oldring's hands.

Mack's young player opened the Athletics' third, by flying out to Burns. Bender sent a swift grounder to Fletcher and was out at first. Murphy sent a single to center, but was forced by Oldring. Fletcher made the out unassisted.

Giants Started.

The Giants broke the ice in the third inning when Bender was touched up for two hits. Merkle sent a slow bounder to Shortstop Barry. It was a scratch single. Marquard sacrificed, putting Merkle on second. He was held there while Shafer was caught out by Strunk, but he sprinted home a minute later on Doyle's smoking single to right field. Fletcher sent up a long fly to Murphy.

Eat Up Marquard.

New York's having the "edge" on Philadelphia, put the crowd in good humor. The Athletics then went after Marquard. They shelled the outer works of the Giants and when the smoke blew away three runs were across the plate. Collins opened up with a terrific drive over Shafer's head. The ball rolled through the centerfield stands. Collins drew up at third. Baker drove a hard one at Doyle, which the latter could not handle in time to get him at first and Collins raced home for the first Philadelphia run. McInnis sacrificed, Marquard to Merkle, and Baker took second, Strunk sent a little grounder to Marquard who headed off Baker at third, Herzog taking the throw. Then Barry, lightest hitter of the Athletics' infield, ripped a two-base hit down the left field foul line, which placed Strunk on third. Both of them scored on Schang's tremendous three-base drive to deep centerfield. The ball struck the fingers of Shafer's left hand and rolled on toward the centerfield stand. Bender ended the inning by going out, Marquard to Merkle.

Giants Rally.

Burns opened his fourth by slamming a double down the left field line, but he was run down when Bender stopped Herzog's grounder. Baker touched Burns out near second base. Herzog in the meantime, sprinted to second, where he was left as Murray struck out and Meyers sent a high fly to Oldring.

The fifth inning brought more fame to Home Run Baker. Both Murphy and Oldring were thrown out at first by Marquard, on easy grounders. Collins got the first base on balls in the game and promptly stole second. With two out and Collins on second, exactly the same situation as obtained in Philadelphia two years ago when Baker hit Marquard for a home run, presented itself. Baker let two balls go by him and then opened upon his shoulders as the next one came down. There was a crack of the bat and the ball sailed high and far, dropping in the rightfield. As Collins and Baker came home Philadelphia partisans yelled themselves hoarse. McInnis sent a pop fly to Fletcher.

Bender's Bad Inning.

Bender's one bad inning came in the fifth. Merkle singled to center. McCormick, batting for Marquard, drove a base hit to centerfield. Merkle taking second. Shafer went out, Collins to McInnis, both runners moving up on the play. Doyle shot a grounder at Barry, who made a poor throw to first and the runner was safe, as Merkle crossed the plate with the Giants second run. A moment later McCormick, who had gone down to third on the play on Doyle, came home when Fletcher singled to right field. Doyle moved up to third on Fletcher's hit and scored New York's fourth run of the game while Baker was throwing Fletcher out at second on Burns' grounder. Herzog sent a high fly to Collins.

Pitcher Crandall relieved Marquard in the sixth and easily disposed of the Philadelphians. Strunk flied to Shafer and Barry did likewise. Schang went out on a fly to Burns. Crandall was cheered as he walked to the bench.

One, Two, Three.

New York also went out in one, two three order in its half of the sixth. Murray was out, Collins to McInnis, and Meyers was thrown out by Bender. Merkle struck out. Schang dropped the third strike and in picking up the ball plunged into Merkle.

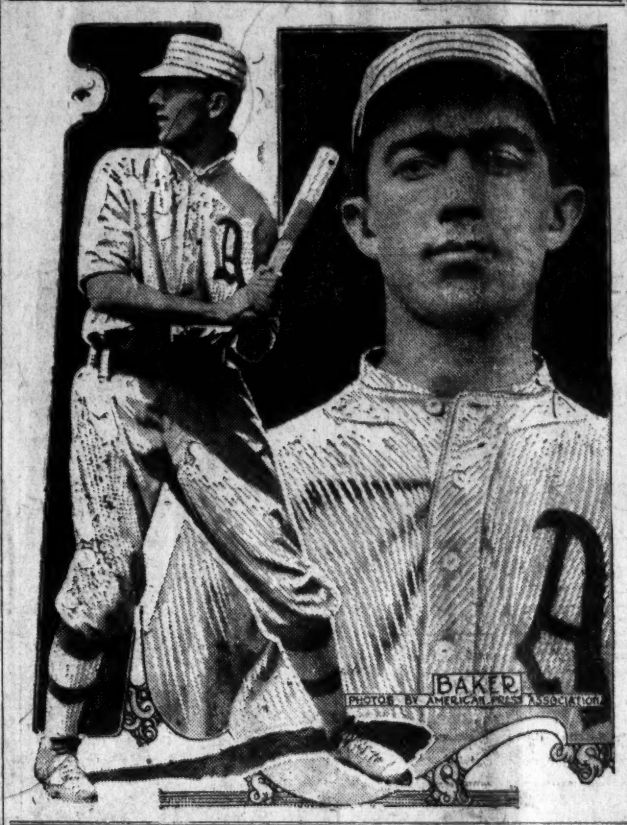
Thrice-Crowned "Home Run" Baker



Will Increase American Navy

Washington, Oct. 7.—Three new battleships and a proportionate number of submarines and torpedo boat destroyers is the aim of the Wilson administration in shaping its naval policy for the December session of Congress.

It became known today that in all probability Secretary Daniels of the Navy Department would put into effect his principle of "less money ashore and more afloat," and advocate the greater part of an appropriation of $148,000,000 to build three powerful warships—one more than the usual annual quota.

With the audition of three first-class battleships, naval officials hope the United States will resume its place next to Great Britain in naval fighting strength, passing Germany, which took second place when the United States dropped to third.

Secretary Daniels declared today that he was not yet ready to make any announcement as he was still studying the question with heads of the bureaus in his department. The plans of the administration are expected, however, to crytalize after President Wilson and Secretary Daniels confer within the next few days with heads of the Congressional committees on appropriations and naval affairs. The annual estimates for naval construction are due to be filed for the regular session of Congress by October 15th. While President Wilson never has made any public declaration on the battleship question, taking the attitude during the campaign days that he ought not to interfere at the time with the activities of the Democrats in Congress, it is understood he favors an adequate navy.

What particularly encourages naval officials to believe three battleships will be forthcoming is a report that in making up its estimates of government expenditures, the framers of the tariff bill calculated on $148,000,000 for naval construction, an increase of about $8,000,000 over the last appropriation when only one battleship and a number of submarines and destroyers were built.

The plan that at present is being considered also provides that less money be expended on shore stations, dock yards and other land equipment of the navy and that even the number of small boats be cut down. If Congress should authorize the construction of three battleships, they would be of the same type as No. 39, which was last appropriated for and which has not been named.

This would be in accord with the policy of government naval experts to secure blocks of four vessels, each having the same speed and fighting ability, so as to permit of uniform division maneuvers.

The new ship No. 39 would be equipped with 12-inch guns and with a displacement of 30,000 tons, and would be of medium speed, a compromise between the battleship cruiser type of the British and Japanese navies and the heavy bull dog of the low speed of German construction.

REBELS DESERTED CAPITAL

When Federal Army Appears, Constitutionalists Disappear—City Taken Without a Shot—Inhabitants Rush for International Bridge.

Piedras Negras, Mex., Oct. 7.—Without firing a shot, Federal soldiers late today took possession of Piedras Negras, erstwhile provisional capital of the Constitutionalists.

The occupation culminated the victorious march of the government army under General Maas through the State of Coahuila, the home of Venustiano Carranza, revolutionary commander in chief.

With the exception of four stragglers who were cut down by Federal cavalry while attempting to escape across the border, all of the Constitutionalist troops in Piedras Negras marched away with the approach of the government army. They were not pursued, the victorious troops contenting themselves with a search of the city for rebels who might be in hiding.

The Federals were first sighted shortly after noon on a hill top two miles south of the city. Cannon was planted and when all was made ready for a battle, a troop of cavalry was sent over the hill at a gallop and into the city. In the meantime, the handful of Constitutionalists shouldered their arms and marched away. The Federal advance guard drove through the Alameda to the deserted Constitutionalist administration building in parade formation, and took possession. Tonight the city is policed by troops, and so far there has been no looting.

While the city was being evacuated, and before the Federals took possession, panic prevailed among the residents, who made a rush for the international bridge. As an act of mercy to the terror-stricken women and children, the quarantine established by the city of Eagle Pass, because of the prevalence of smallpox here, and in the surrounding country, was partially raised, and several thousand were permitted to cross the boundary and were marched under guard of United States troops to quarantine camps outside Eagle Pass.

Tonight reports as to the status of the revolutionary movement are conflicting. Some dispatches indicate that the rebel army is badly scattered and broken in spirit, while others are that the different bands are still intact and marching toward a common point to re-form and renew the campaign.

Montclover and Cuatro Ciengas, in the central part of the State of Coahuila, are still under rebel rule, it is understood, while private advices received at Laredo, Texas, tonight, report that the important city of Torreon in the souhern part of the State, has been taken by the Constitutionalists.

The whereabouts of the Constitutionalist leaders is unknown. Venus

CURRENCY BILL IN DOUBTFUL PLACE

Democrats May Take It from Committee and Into Caucus of Party.

MANY CONFERENCES ARE HELD

President Wilson Stated It Must be Law by December the First—Foraker Wants Another Plan.

Washington, Oct. 7.—The administration currency bill and President Wilson's announced determination to write it into law before December 1st, today became the storm center of legislative activity. A series of conferences at the White House, prompted by the desire of the President to hasten consideration of the measure, made apparent a rather doubtful situation surrounding the bill.

President Pro Tem. Clarke, of the Senate, Majority Leader Kern, Democratic Lewis, Chairman Owen, of the Banking and Currency Committee, and Senator Ollie James, of Kentucky, were called to the White House to discuss the situation. The President took the attitude that the determination of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee to conclude its hearings "on or before October 25th," showed that the Republicans of the committee, with the aid of two or three Democrats opposed the bill, were delaying the situation and that the Democratic majority should at once take steps to demonstrate the responsibility of this legislation.

The Senators who conferred with the President all took the position that as the Democrats were responsible for currency legislation they should take the matter into their own hands. It was indicated that the bill might be withdrawn from the full committee and turned over to the committee Democrats. By this method, if the committee Democrats were unable to agree on the bill it could be taken direct to the Democratic caucus, although Senate leaders were doubtful as to the outcome of a currency caucus under present conditions.

Majority Leader Kern said today that if it became apparent that the bill was being delayed the Democrats, in order to assume their responsibility, for demonstration, would call a caucus. Senator Owen also took the position that the measure should be made a party matter. The day's developments showed no change in the attitude of Senators Reed and Hitchcock, the Democratic members of the committee who have contended for full consieration and opportunity to amend the bill. Senator O'Gorman who has taken a similar position did not attend today's hearings.

The committee today heard Chas. N. Fowler, former member of the House an former chairman of the Banking and Currency Committee. He attacked the bill, declaring that if passed it would result in "commercial bedlam."

He characterized the present Aldrich-Vreeland emergency currency law as an "iniquity."

"That measure," he said, "was jammed through Congress by former President Roosevelt, under the same damnable pretense that is being used by President Wilson to force this bill through Congress—pass the bill or plead incompetence."

Mr. Foster advocated the establishment of a system of pure bank note asset currency under which each individual bank would issue its own notes as currency as they were needed.

George H. Shibeley, director of the Bureau of Political Research, was also before the Senate Committee today, renewing his charge that the "trustocrats" had driven college professors who "espouse the cause of the people" from their positions.

Prof. Edward W. Bemis, of Chicago University, was discharged because he attacked the Chicago Gas Trust, said Shibeley. "John R. Commons, of Syracuse, was discharged for voting for William Jennings Bryan. James Allen Smith, of Marietta, Ohio, was driven from his place. The present President of the United States had a narrow escape because he advocated the short ballot."

Senator Bristow, a member of the committee, today added another element to the situation by introducing a new currency bill in the Senate. The Senator said he introduced the bill by request and thought it contained valuable points.

The measure would allow the present National bank with a capital of $100,000 and a 20 per cent. surplus to take out in addition to their present currency secured by two per cent. government bonds, "unsecured currency" up to the amount of their capital. This currency would be secured by a first lien on the bank's assets and would be taxed 5 per cent. the first six months it was out, six per cent. the next three months, seven per cent. the next three months and at the end of the year, the comptroller of the currency could order it retired.

LARGE HYDRO-ELECTRIC PLANT.

Will be Opened at Chattanooga, Tenn. Soon—Garrison to be There.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Secretary Garrison today received through the Chattanooga chamber of commerce an invitation to attend the opening of the great Brady power plant on the Tennessee river at Chattanooga. As the Tennessee river is a navigable stream the sanction of Congress had to be obtained for the building of the dam and the work has been done under the supervision of the War Department.

The plant is said to be the largest hydro-electric development in the South and will develop 56,000 horsepower at low water and has cost nearly $10,000,000. It was financed by the late Anthony N. Brady. The date for the opening has not yet been determined.

SULZER TRIED TO BUY OFF MURPHY

Allan A. Ryan Stated Gov. Negotiated With Tammany Leader for Peace

SARECKY SHOULDERS BLAME

Ryan's Lawyers Were to Act as Go-Between in Negotiations of Two Factions, But Murphy Refused.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Governor William Sulzer recently attempted to negotiate a bargain with Charles F. Murphy, Tammany Hall leader, to have his impeachment trial "called off"—so Allan A. Ryan, son of the New York financier and traction magnate, testified at the trial today.

If Murphy was willing to "get his following to vote that the Assembly had no right to impeach him" the Governor, according to Ryan, "was willing to do whatever was right."

The testimony preceded the calling by the defense of Louis A. Sarecky, the Governor's campaign secretary, and other witnesses.

Sarecky, a youth of 27, shouldered the blame for the omission of unreported contributions from the Governor's campaign statement, confessed he had imitated the Governor's signature to deceive a bank, and admitted that he, an alien, born in Russia and never naturalized, had been promoted from the position of the Governor's stenographer to the head of the deportation bureau of the State hospital commission.

Ryan's story of the Governor's alleged effort to make peace with the leader of Tammany Hall was his second recital of an attempt on the part of the Governor to obtain political influence to stop the trial. Ryan testified yesterday that Sulzer had asked him to persuade United States Senator Elihu Root to get the New York Republican State chairman, William Barnes, Jr., to influence the Republican members of the court of impeachment to vote the impeachment trial illegal.

Testimony Finally Accepted.

The latter testimony was stricken out by a vote of the court 32 to 18, but today on motion of Elon R. Brown, the Senate Republican leader, the court in executive session reconsidered its action and by a vote of 41 to 14 decided to admit the testimony and open the door for the remainder of the young financier's story.

Ryan took the stand immediately

Bankers Gather For Big Meeting

Boston, Mass., Oct. 7.—The savings banks of the country have abandoned their opposition to the Postal Savings Banks, according to R. C. Stephenson, of South Bend, Ind., president of the Savings Bank section of the American Bankers' Association.

Mr. Stephenson's report presented today at a sectional meeting of the thirty-ninth annual convention of the association, showed that the savings banks have not suffered appreciably by the introduction of the postal savings system. Money deposited with the government, Mr. Stephenson said, probably would not have gone into the savings banks.

This sectional meeting was one of four held today prior to the formal opening of the convention proper tomorrow morning. More than 4,000 delegates and guests were in the city tonight, and every train brought additions to the number.

The election of officers of the association Thursday afternoon is expected to develop some lively contests. Arthur Reynolds of Des Moines, Ia., will be promoted from first vice-president to president, without opposition, but a contest has developed for minor places.

A spirited contest is also indicated over the next meeting place of the association. Richmond, Atlanta and Atlantic City are candidates.

The social side of the convention reached its climax tonight with a grand ball at Symphony Hall, attended by more than 2,000 delegates and ladies.

CELEBRATE 133RD ANNIVERSARY.

People from Five States Hear Secretary Bryan.

King's Mountain, N. C., Oct. 7.—Citizens of five States today celebrated here the 133rd anniversary of the battle of King's Mountain, one af the decisive engagements of the Revolution.

Secretary of State Bryan, the principal speaker, was heard by about 20,000 people.

Representatives were here from Virginia, Tennessee, Georgia and North and South Carolina towns.

A parade with Secretary Bryan riding at the head, was the morning feature. Floats representing the 13 original Colonies were followed through the main streets of the village by thousands in the line of march. Secretary Bryan's address carried a plea for education, peace and prohibition. The present crusade against ignorance, said the Secretary, is actuated by the same motives that prompted the early colonists to take up arms and drive forth the invader at King's Mountain.

Mr. Bryan praised the adminstration of President Wilson. He had anticipated and prepared for a tariff bill 33 years ago, he said. He had foreseen currency reform for two decades, he declared.

Mr. Bryan left here late this afternoon for Spartanburg, S. C. He will speak in Asheville, N. C., tomorrow.

GETTING TO WORK ON REAL BUSINESS

Both Branches of North Carolina Assembly Take Up Amendments

SOP TO THE COMMISSION

Rate Expert and Further Official Help is Provided—Number of Local Bills Are Pushed Through. Justice Defeated.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 7.—After discussing the Justice intra-State freight rate bill from 9 o'clock until midnight the House of the State General Assembly voted 77 to 23 for the bill which is believed will reduce the earnings of the carriers 2 per cent. in North Carolina.

Mr. Justice vigorously advocated the bill, saying that if it were unjust to the railroads he did not see why any crocodile tears should be shed by the people of North Carolina because of that suspicion considering how the roads had gouged the State.

J. Frank Ray called Mr. Justice an unsafe leader and charged that the Guilford man was playing politics for the United States Senatorship, whereupon Mr. Justice said he might charge that Mr. Ray came down to Raleigh on his pass and charged the State $85 for it.

Mr. Justice paid a compliment to Henry Page, another approved of the bill, speaking of him as a probable future Governor of North Carolina, and Mr. Page rejoined with the assertion that the imputation of the gentleman from Guilford would put both on the same platform, but he disclaimed any intention of holding any office except that of Representative from Moore county.

Mr. Bowie, of Ashe, urged that the matter be left with the Corporation Commission which had demonstrated its wise leadership and its capability for handling rate matters. He referred to what he termed the expensive litigation in 1907 and 1908 to get what he said the railroads offered and what the State finally took, after spending $60,000.

When the House passed the Justice bill Mr. Page moved to reconsider the vote by which the resolution accepting the railroads' proposition on inter-State rates was adopted. He based his appeal on the ground that it would be unfair to accept this and then stare the railroads in the face with this intra-State bill, which he and others would have left to the Corporation Commission. The railroads should be allowed to see now whether they are willing to put on the Western rates. He at least wanted not to bind them from contesting the intra-State rates in the courts. His motion was overwhelmingly lost.

Earlier Sessions.

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 7.—The larger part of the time of the Senate today was spent in committee of the whole considering amendment proposals for the constitution. Section 5, relieving the General Assembly from passing "Local, private and special acts or resolutions," paragraphs one to four, were adopted.

Paragraph 5, relating to "game and hunting," provoked a long discussion Senator Ivie, author of the section, insisting that the county commissioners would know much better than members in the Legislature what sort of game laws the county needs.

Senator Ward opposed the paragraph on the ground that it had not been tried out by any State. Senator Parsons declared that to delegate this game legislation to the commissioners would mean that good men could not be induced to serve as county commissioners and game would be speedily exterminated. Senators Barnes, Hobgood and Phillips supported the amendment. Senator Daniels also supported it.

The first vote was 19 to 16 to strike out the paragraph. The vote was ordered to be re-taken and stood 25 to 5 to strike out on the next ballot.

Paragraphs 6, 7 and 8 were adopted.

Paragraph 9 as to changing township lines and lines of school districts was adopted, with an amendment that creation of new school districts be included. Paragraph 10 adopted and Paragraph 11 as to exempting property from taxation was stricken out.

Paragraphs 13, 14, 15 and 16 adopted completing the proposal.

New bills introduced were: Livingood, to amend the constitution as to reduce the lengths of residence necessary for voting from two years to one year in the State, six months to three months in the town, and four months to two months in the precincts; Ward, a bill in accordance with the action of the Democratic caucus last night to provide for a rate expert with the Corporation Commission at salary of not more than $4,000 and for additional clerical help not to exceed $2,000.

Bills passed final reading: Provide municipal improvement bonds for Jacksonville, Onslow county; establish stock law in Duplin county.

Senator Hannah's bill as to the sale of merchandise in bulk was, after some discussion and several amendments, re-referred to committee. The bill bars claims of creditors after one year following sale.

In the House.

The House in committee of the whole today defeated the bill to forbid the reading of the Bible in the public schools, took similar action with regard to the initiative and referendum, which was valiantly championed by Mr. Justice and vigorously oposed by Mr. Doughton and referred for the second time the section relating to the levy of a capitation tax.

So far as the House is concerned, the constitutional amendments have practically all been settled one way

Merkle ran to first and claimed interference and that Schang did not touch him with the ball. The Philadelphia players were walking off the field, but Umpire Klem ordered them back. After a consultation the strike-out was allowed.

Crandall again had the Athletics tied up in the seventh inning. Bender struck out. Murphy was an easy out, Doyle to Merkle, and Oldring sent a fly to Shafer.

Giants Hopeful.

Things looked rosey for New York in the seventh, but their fine chance to score was killed by a lightning double play in which Barry and Collins were the master workmen. Crandall was out, Barry to McInnis. Shafer drove a single to center field and flashed to third base when Doyle singled to right field. Fletcher hit an ugly fast ball to Barry. He got it cleanly, tossed it to Collins, who made a rifle shot throw to McInnis and the inning was over.

Crandall's Finish.

The eighth inning saw the end of Crandall. Collins beat out an infield hit, Doyle failing to cover first. Baker then came up and hit a sharp single to left field, Collins taking third. McInnis shot a two-base hit into left field, Collins coming home with the sixth and last run of the game. Baker went to third. With two on bases and no one out, Tesreau relieved Crandall. Tesreau immediately put his spit ball into action and Strunk struck out on three pitched balls. Baker, McInnis and Barry then tried the hit and run. Tesreau appeared to be wise to the play and pitched the ball high. Both runners were caught between the bases. Baker was out as he slid to the home base, the play being Meyers to Doyle to Merkle. Barry flied to Doyle.

Although New York got a man on base in the eighth he got no advance. Burns went out, Baker to McInnis. Herzog was thrown out at first by Collins and Murray hit a bounder over Baker's head, giving him first. Meyers sent a long fly to Strunk.

In Philadelphia's final turn at bat Schang was thrown out at first by Herzog and Tesreau took care of Bender's slow grounder, throwing him out at first. Eddie Murphy drew a base on balls and the inning closed when he tried to steal second and was out Meyers to Doyle. The crowd started to move out when New York came to bat. Merkle grounded out, Barry to McInnis. McLean, pinch hittingg for Tesreau, sent a pop fly to Barry and the game was over when Shafer struck out.

The official box score:

Time: 2:06.

Philadelphia, Oct. 7.—Upon his arrival here tonight from the world's series game in New York, Frank Richter, official scorer, authorized the folrections in the early box score:

Give Merkle three times at bat, making total at bat for New York 35; give Collins seven assists; give Schang two assists, making Philadelphia assists total 17. Give McInnis 11 put outs and Schang three put outs, total for Philadelphia 27. In the summary insert in bases on balls, off Bender one; make strike outs by Bender three, instead of four.

In play by play descriptive, make sixth inning read: and Meyers was thrown out by Bender. With two out and the count three and two for Merkle, the latter made a half swing at a low and wild pitch. Schang dropped the ball, picked it up touched Merkle and then rolled the ball to the pitcher's box. Merkle went to first base and seeing the ball roll past the pitcher's box started for second. Collins went for the ball, relayed it to McInnis and Merkle tried to get back to first. McInnis touched him with the ball. Merkle was declared out by Egan, ending the inning.

"It appears that Umpire Klem had given Merkle his base on balls instead of a strike out, of which Schang was not aware and Merkle was trying to take advantage of the confusion and rolling ball to take second base."

Arrival at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia Oct. 7.—The arrival of Baker, McInnis and other Athletic players who live near the grounds, tonight broke up the line of four or five hundred fans who had gathered outside of Shibe Park to await the sale of bleacher seats tomorrow. Although some of ehose in the line had been in position since 4 o'clock in the afternoon the temptation to get a close view of their heroes caused them to leave their places as the players, suit cases in hand, walked briskly past the park shortly after 10 o'clock.

Many of those in line have traveled long distances to see a world's series game but lack the funds to secure reserved seats at the advanced prices. A drizzling rain which began falling shortly before midnight did not deter them from resuming their stand outside the gates in the hope that the weather will clear.

Both teams arrived in this city tonight. The Giants at once went to their hotel and the Athletics to their homes.

Connie Mack refused to make any statement other than to say:

"Everything went very nicely. No, I won't make any prophecy."

Ticket agencies in the various hotels tonight are offering $3 seats for $8 and $2 for $4.50. They appear to be well supplied. Outside scalpers are offering sets of three seats—one for each game for $15.

Ticket Speculators.

New York, Oct. 7.—One phase of the charge that there has been speculation in connection with the world's series baseball tickets was made a matter of inquiry tonight by District Attorney Whiteman from whose office process servers setforth in search of John B. Foster, secretary of the New York baseball club. The servers bore a subpoena directing Foster to appear before the grand jury Thursday morning and bring with him certain books and records of the New York club. Foster had left town with the Giants for Philadelphia, however, and was not handed the subpoena.

The county prosecutor's attention was called to a statement attributed to Foster that members of staffs of corporation counsel and the district attorney sold to speculators reserved seats that they had bought for $3 each. Mr. Whitman said he was determined to learn if any of his employes or those of the corporation counsel used the official stationery of either office in writing for tickets.

The subpoena to Foster directs him to disclose the names of persons to whom county or city office-holders may have sold tickets obtained through using official stationery and also the names of the purchasers.

Will Use Mathewson.

Philadelphia, Oct. 7.—Manager McGraw, of the New York Giants, upon his arrival here late tonight with his team declared that he was not discouraged by today's defeat and that the Athletics "were lucky to win."

McGraw said that if the weather is clear he would use Mathewson in the second game of the series. Further than that he would not discuss his probable pitching selection.

EPISCOPALS IN SESSION.

Gather for Big Meeting Tomorrow—Many New Questions.

New York, Oct. 7.—Episcopal prelates, clergymen and laymen from all parts of the world are gathered in this city tonight to attend the Triennial General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church, which will open tomorrow morning. Of the bishops 15 in number, all but two are expected to be present, while only a few of the deputies will be absent.

Among matters of legislation which seem likely to be considered are suggestions for charging the corporate name of the denomination, revising the constitution in its relation to marriage and divorce, recommending, a special diocese for army posts and naval reservations, adopting a pension system for aged clergymen and for cooperating with other denominations in the missionary field.

Preliminary to the convention, the bishops who are in charge of home missionary work held executive sessions today.

LADY GOLFERS TO PLAY.

Seventy Five of the Best Players Gather for Match.

New York, Oct. 7.—Seventy-five women golfers, including European and Canadian players, are entered for the 19th annual National Woman's championhip tournament of the United States Golf Association which will begin next Monday at the Wilmington Country Club, of Wilmington, Delaware. The field this year will bring together Miss Muriel Dodd, of Mooreton, England, the British and Canadian champions; Miss Gladys Ravenscroft, last year's British champion; Miss Mabel Harrison, of Ireland, who holds the Irish golfing honor; Miss Margaret Curtis, Essex, Mass., America's champion; Miss Marion Hollins, West Brook, N. Y., the Metropolitan champion, and Mrs. R. H. Bartow, Philadelphia, the Eastern title-holder.

KNOCKED OUT YOUNG BROWN.

In Sixth Round of Scheduled Ten Round Bout.

New York, Oct. 7.—Leach Cross, of this city, tonight knocked out Young Brown, a local boy, in the sixth round of a ten round bout. Brown received severe punishment in the third round and took the full count in the sixth when Cross brought over a right to the point of the jaw. Cross and Brown are light weights.

If Mr. Craig wants to go to the Senate there is no reason why he should not make the try.—Durham Herald.

Giants Took Kindly to His Brand

RUBE MARQUARD SAYS HE ALONE TO BLAME

"Had More Stuff Than Bender But Overconfidence Lost the Game"

BAKER OUTGUESSED HIM

Also Made a Wong Guess on Eddie Collins—Got Baker's Number at Last—Certain the Giants Will Win.

BY "RUBE" MARQUARD.
Star Giant Twirler.

I alone lost the first game for the Giants. Any poor man who lost money on this battle could not feel worse than I do over the defeat, and yet I am more certain than ever that the Giants will win this series and McGraw feels the same way simply because the team is hitting. If we bag the second game it is a sure bet we will go through, for Tesreau will beat the Athletics in the next game at the Polo Grounds.

Had More Smoke.

I had more stuff than Bender today, and the only reason I lost out was because of over-confidence. You might say I was nervous and I can not say any more. Bender won purely by brainy pitching. He did not have as much on the ball as I had and he was mighty lucky to get the decision. Bender is not nearly as good a pitcher as he was two years ago and we will beat him the next time he starts.

The trouble with me was I could not get the ball over exactly where I wanted to put it. Naturally I was trying to jam-up Baker every time he came up, and Chief Meyers and I figured that a low ball outside was the one that would bother him. The first time Baker toed the plate I was able to feed him on this ball and he scraped a fly to left. When he came to bat the second time Meyers cautioned me to keep the ball outside, but somehow or other I couldn't do it.

I'll admit that I was nervous, I was too anxious to win.

And you can say the same about Meyers, although I don't blame him or anyone else, only myself. Baker got a scratch hit the second time up, a nasty grounder that Doyle went after. It was a hard ball to handle, but ordinarily I think Larry would have taken care of it.

The third time Baker went to bat, when Collins was on second, after walking and stealing, the Chief again tipped me off on keeping the ball outside. I knew then, as well as I know now, that I had lost control and can't explain why I let the ball go. As soon as it was free I looked for Baker to give it a ride, for it was headed for the inside corner—just where Baker likes them. Furthermore, it was only a few inches above his knees. And that suits him to a "T." You see I make no apologies or alibis. If I had had the control to pitch as Meyers ordered, we would have won this game.

On Collins I made an even worse mistake. We figured him to hit a high ball, and it was my business to keep the pill shooting over there as low as possible. I had plenty of warning of this in the other series, and yet I pumped over one in the cradle to him in the first. Luckily, I got Baker's number and he flied out, so that no runs came in.

My control was so rotten that when Collins stepped up, the first man in the fatal fourth, in trying to pitch as I should have pitched, I finally let one go around his neck. It was a bad ball, and by all rhyme and reason of the game, he should have let it pass. Collins met that ball square on the face, the ball nearly over his head, and he rode it into Tilly Shafer's yard. It was a fierce slam and the ball curved in its course. If Shafer had nailed that drive I think it would have steadied me up, but I must confess that when he misjudged it, I got more nervous. I have been so anxious to get into this series that brooding over the various games has put me off edge.

Shafer is an infielder by profession and I certainly do not blame him for misjudging Collins' drive. Schang got a triple in this same fatal fourth by hitting a fast ball. While we did not know much about him, we did have a tip that he is a fast ball cloiter, and if I had been right on control, I would have fooled him on a slow ball. Instead of following out that strategy, I crossed Meyers and cut loose a speeder. When I thought I had Schang in a hole, away went that three-bagger which scored Strunk and Barry.

McGraw Smiled.

After the game McGraw was in a better humor than I have seen him for a long time, simply because he feels like we all do—that the Giants will hit well against the Athletics from now on. Only a ball player knows what this game means to the Giants. We proved that we can hit Bender, and Bender is the best card the Athletics have.

Furthermore, it looks as though we were going to get some breaks this trip. Last year we won the first game and had no breaks, we lost to the Athletics the year before in the opening battle and had no breaks. Today we lost and had an even split on the luck. This is encouraging and our free hitting shows we will be able to play a sharp offensive game all the way through.

A prime mistake Meyers and I made was in not passing Schang in the fatal fourth. We had two men killed off, with Strunk on third and Barry on second. Schang was a new man to both of us and all we knew was that he liked a fast ball. My notion was to walk him and take a chance on Bender with the bases choked. Meyers thought we could fool him and ordered a slow ball. I failed to deliver. And, there you are for another of my blunders.

Will Settle Today.

Take it from me, the team will settle down tomorrow and put up a great game for Matty. We will not be so over-anxious and confident. Meyers will get in his blows before the series is over. He was swinging at everything. I certainly expect to get back in the series and I'll bet my next year's contract that I can beat the Athletics. I think that they will use one of their young pitchers tomorrow and we are likely to outhit the Athletics two to one.

Merkle Touched 2nd.

PHILLY HEARS OF VICTORY

General Suspension of Business in Quaker City While Throngs Adjourned to Scoreboards to Get Returns.

Philadelphia, Oct. 7.—Business was practically suspended in the center of this city today, while the game between the Athletics and Giants was in progress in New York. Crowds surrounded scoreboards in front of the newspaper offices and at other points where the results of the game were given play by play. More than 10,000 spectators watched an electric scoreboard from the City Hall plaza while others viewed the game in theatres, nearly all of which had arranged to show the game on screens, as quickly as a play was made.

Signs and superstitions were numerous among the good-natured crowd. When a load of empty barrels, who long has been a favorite omen with many of the Athletic rooters went past the throng on City Hall plaza hats were doffed and a great cheer went up. The next play displayed was Baker's home run, scoring Collins ahead of him. The crowd went wild and there were many expressions of "I told you so."

Every score was the signal for an outburst of cheering accompanied by the tooting of countless automobile horns, which made the conductors trials in the court rooms almost an impossibility. At the end of the ninth inning, the cheers of the assembled fans appeared to shake the surrounding buildings. Many women were in the throngs following the plays with the same interest as their male companions.

There was very little betting here, the crowds appearing not to want to take their eyes off the scoreboards long enough to lay a waker.

Pitcher Coombs, hero of two previous world's series, and the only player eligible to participate in the series not at the Polo Grounds, received the report of the game by telephone at his bedside in the University Hospital. His wife and Mrs. Ira Thomas were at Shibe Park and told him each play as it was flashed on the scoreboard there. Coombs, who is suffering from twisted muscles, is stretched out in bed with a 38-pound weight attached to his feet.

NAPS TOOK SECOND.

Defeated Pittsburg Pirates in Second Game of Post-Season.

Cleveland, Sept. 7.—Cleveland again defeated the Pittsburg Nationals today 2 to 1 in an 11-inning pitchers' battle. Gregg, Cleveland's star southpaw, opposed Robinson, Pittsburg's best left hander and honors were about even. Gregg's first base on balls helped Pittsburg to their only run and Robinson's base on balls allowed Cleveland to score the deciding tally. Only about 3,500 were present. Tomorrow's game will be played at Pittsburg.

CHINESE VICE PRESIDENT.

Provisional Vice President Continues on Job for Five Years.

Peking, Oct. 7.—Gen. Liu Yuen Heng, provisional vice president of the Chinese Republic, was elected Vice President today for a term of five years by the United Houses of the Chinese Parliament. He received 610 votes of the 719 cast.

Gen. Heng, 49 years old, is a native of Hu Peh. During the revolution against the Manchus he served ably as a revolutionary leader. He was elected provisional Vice President in February, 1912.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—Stock of the Chicago Americans took a jump today with the postponement of the first game of the city championship series. News that Ed Walsh would be able to take part in the series was followed by statements that Schulte, the National's slugging outfielder would not take part. Thousands of persons were disappointed today when rain fell hard enough to flood the West Side grounds.

THE NORTH CAROLINA SYNOD

Interesting Centennial Exercises on Grounds of Old Alamance Church. Distinguished Speakers—Home Missions.

(By Mamie Bays.)

Greensboro, N. C., Oct. 7.—Alamance church, with a seating capacity of 500, was crowded to the utmost, chairs being placed in the aisles and a number of people being compelled to stand, today during the exercises which marked the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the organization of the Presbyterian Synod of North Carolina.

The exercises began with a devotional service. The pastor of the church, Rev. A. W. Crawford, delivered the address of welcome. During the course of the address he called attention to a number of interesting points of history regarding Alamance church. He also called the roll of 30 ministers who have gone out from the membership of this church during the past century and stated that four young men in the present membership are preparing to enter the ministry. Mr. Crawford extended to the members of the Synod cordial welcome to this historic church near the site of which the Synod of North Carolina was organized 100 years ago today. Mr. Crawford presided and the first speaker introduced was Rev. Walter W. Moore, D. D., president of Union Theological Seminary, at Richmond. Dr. Moore is a native of North Carolina and former member of this Synod.

The personnel of the Synod during the last 25 years of the first half of the century of the history of the Synod was the subject of an address by Rev. Dr. H. G. Hill, of Maxton. Rev. Dr. D. I. Craig, of Reidsville, spoke on the personnel of the body during the 25 years previous.

An event of special interest of the day was the visit to the exact spot where the first Alamance church stood and in which the Synod was organized. That church was a few hundred yards from the present church and on this spot the Synod was called to order by the moderator. The grave of Andrew Finley, who directed the building of the first church and called the workmen to prayer before it was begun, is near this historic spot and at this grave the moderator led the Synod in prayer. On motion of Rev. Dr. Neal L. Anderson, of Winston-Salem, a subscription was begun for the erection of a permanent memorial on the spot where the first Alamance church stood.

The last speaker on the centennial programme was Dr. C. Alphonso Smith, of the University of Virginia, and his subject was "Presbyterianism in the Educational Work of North Carolina During the Century." His opening remark was that education and morality go hand in hand and the relation between the two is so close that they cannot be divorced. He then cited the fact that the University of North Carolina was established under the presidency of a North Carolinian, Jos. Caldwell, and that the five men who succeeded him were of the same faith, also that Calvin H. Wiley, a Presbyterian, was the father of the public school system in North Carolina and was the first superintendent of public instruction. The last name he mentioned in this connection was Charles Duncan McIver, a Presbyterian, whose greatest work was that in the interest of higher education of women at the State Normal and Industrial College.

This evening a popular meeting in the interest of Assembly's home mission was held. Rev. Dr. S L. Morris, of Atlanta, was the principal speaker.

OKLAHOMAN MAY BE PARDONED.

Senator Overman Interested in Case. Civil Service Bill Held Up.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 7.—Sam Coltraine, a former Randolph county boy, is to be pardoned, according to advices received today by Senator Overman. Coltraine some months ago was tried and convicted of murder in Oklahoma. He was sentenced to 10 years' imprisonment in the penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas. Coltraine has always protested that he was not guilty, but that a man by the name of Watson committed the crime. Senator Overman took an interest in the case and, finally, Watson was captured and convicted of the crime.

Mr. Overman has been assured by the President that Coltraine will be pardoned and allowed to return to his native State.

Senator Overman is confident that his resolution providing that deputy collectors and United States marshals shall be appointed without regard to the civil service will go through. The junior Senator told The Star correspondent tonight that he had enough votes to hold the urgent deficiency bill up indefinitely unless his resolution was carried with it.

Senator Simmons is in conference with President Wilson tonight.

NELSON M'RAE ELECTED.

Chosen President of Boat Club at Massachusetts Tech. Institute.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Boston, Mass., Oct. 7.—An election of Friday evening of the Technology Boat Club, Nelson McRae, of Wilmington, was selected for Commodore.

The boat club starts the year free of debt and thanks to the student government of the activities, has some cash in its treasury. The moving of the institute to the Charles River Embankment in a year or two will give the students a splendid practice basin at the college itself, and having in its student body many oarsmen who have made their mark in naval and other college crews, it is one of the coming rowing colleges of the future. The future has already extended its influence to the present and much enthusiasm has been aroused in the crew.

Duncan MacRae, of Asheville, a graduate of the University of North Carolina, is taking a graduate course at the Massachusetts Tech., and Victor C. Brownson, B. S., of Asheville, is an advanced student.

STOOD TOO NEAR TRACK.

One Negro Dead and Another Injured Near Fayetteville Yesterday.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Fayetteville, N. C., Oct. 7.—As a result of standing too near a railroad track a negro named Shepard, a construction hand, is dead, and Sandy Allen, another negro, is in a local hospital with a broken leg. The men who have been working for J. D. Davis, sub-contractor under the W. Z. Williams Company, is doing part of the concrete construction preliminary to double-tracking operations on the Atlantic Coast Line. They were standing close to the track near Wade, when a construction train backed down on them at 30 miles an hour. Shepard was struck in the side and died 40 minutes later. Allen is not considered seriously injured.

DEATH SENTENCE IS FIXED

Halifax County Young Man to be Electrocuted December 12th—Murder and Robbery Charged.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 7.—R. W. Cobb, the Halifax county man under sentence of death for the murder and robbery of Thomas Shaw, a prosperous merchant and planter of Rosemary, Halifax county, is to pay the death penalty in the penitentiary here on Friday, December 12th.

This date was fixed today by Governor Craig on receipt of the certification from the Supreme Court that the conviction and sentence as imposed in the Superior Court have been affirmed on appeal.

The murder and robbery were on the night of May 3rd last, and the conviction and sentence followed in June. The Shaw home was three miles out from Rosemary and the store was 200 yards from the residence. Thomas Shaw and his son, Shelton Shaw, locked the store at 10 o'clock and walked toward the house, Mr. Shaw having the money from the day's business under his arm. As they neared the house some one sprang up from the corner of the porch and demanded "hands up." Mr. Shaw exclaimed, "get out and quit your foolishness." The man, who was afterwards proven to be Cobb, fired. Shelton Shaw ran back toward the store for help, a number of men having left the store for their homes just as the place was closed. Thomas Shaw was found to be mortally wounded and died three days later in the hospital at Roanoke Rapids.

Cobb is a young white man about 25 years old and grew up in the neighborhood where the murder was committed. There was evidence to prove that he planned the robbery, and murder, if necessary, in getting the money, with the purpose of getting away on a bicycle so as to avoid being tracked by bloodhounds. A young man, Durkins, who was accused of being an accomplice, was acquitted at the same time that Cobb was convicted and sentenced.

DIED FROM ELECTRIC SHOCK.

Young Mill Employe Dead—Involuntary Proceeding in Bankruptcy.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Oct. 7.—W. Columbus Preston, an employe at White Oak Cotton Mills, near the city, died last night at 10:15 o'clock from an electric shock which he received at 10 o'clock yesterday morning while at work in the engine room of the mill. In some way while at work in the engine room he came in contact with the wire and received a severe shock. He was carried immediately to the hospital but all efforts to save his life were in vain. He was conscious until the end. His body was badly burned and his face was a blister, while his eyelids and hair were singed. He was a single man, 29 years of age and a native of Forsyth county, near Belew's creek. He had been here about six years. His father, J. E. Preston, of Belew's Creek, arrived just before his son died and will carry the body back to Belew's Creek for burial. The father, six brothers and three sisters survive.

An involuntary proceeding in bankruptcy against the North Manufacturing Company, at Worthville, has been filed. The defendant has been served with subpoena to appear here October 14th, and show cause why it should not be adjudged bankrupt. The petitioning creditors are Odell Hardware Company, American Supply Company and Gun Disinfecting and Oil Corporation.

DIED AT FLORENCE, S. C.

Lumberton Man Recently Injured in Runaway Succumbs.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Lumberton, N. C., Oct. 7.—A telephone message from Florence, S. C., states that Mr. James Robinson, who was hurt in a runaway at Marion ten days ago, died this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The remains will be brought here for interment tomorrow afeernoon. The funeral hour has not been appointed.

FROM KITCHEN TO DINING ROOM

Seemed a Long Way to This Lady, as She Had to Sit Down Between Rooms.

Madison Heights, Va.—Mrs. M. E. Veste, of this town, says: "I hardly know how to express myself in speaking of the great good that Cardui, the woman's tonic did me.

"I was almost dead last July when I commenced taking Cardui. I was weak and nervous; without any appetite, and even without courage. I could hardly walk from the dining room to the kitchen without sitting down, and I had about given up all hope.

"And then I saw Cardui advertised in a paper, and I said it was the very thing I needed. So I got a bottle, and it relieved me in less time than a week. When I had taken three bottles, I felt like a new person.

"Please publish this letter so that other people may see how Cardui helped me after I was almost dead."

Cardui goes to the weak spots and helps to make them strong. It acts with nature—not against her. It is for tired, nervous, irritable women, who feel as if every thing were wrong, and need something to quiet their nerves and strengthen the worn-out system.

If you are a woman, suffering from any of the nervous ailments of womanly trouble, take Cardui. It will help you. At all druggists.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months; $1.50 for three months; 50 cents for one month, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate and like matter will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, to persons carrying a regular account, or, if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, excursions, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under the same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper, in the discretion of the editors.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and, if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

ALL DRAFTS, checks, express money orders, and postal money orders, for the paper should be made payable, and all communications should be addressed to, THE WILMINGTON STAR CO.

That's going some right along in the right direction, panic or no panic. However, the Washington Post on Monday said; "While commercial and industrial activities, taking the country over, are greater throughout the United States now than at any prior period in its history, it is doubtful that any other section of the country is enjoying as full a measure of prosperity, or conditions that make for permanency of good times, as are the States extending from the northern border of Maryland to the mouth of the Mississippi."

MR. TAYLOR ON THE RATE QUESTION.

The review of the freight rate controversy in North Carolina made by Mr. J. Allan Taylor at the meeting of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce Monday afternoon, is a strong statement of the situation. It is unanswerable. The position taken by Mr. Taylor as a whole cannot be controverted by the keenest rate expert in America. He not only lucidly and authoritatively defines the theory of rate basing, but gives us a marvelous interpretation of the proposed compromise which the General Assembly now sitting at Raleigh is considering. He gives us an informing history of North Carolina's fight for just freight rates, and he not only unequivocally answers the Hon. E. J. Justice in his criticism of Wilmington, but shows up that gentleman's inconsistency as well as the looseness of his grasp of the principle of basing rates.

It is not necessary to add to Mr. Taylor's masterly presentation of the freight rate controversy and his complete and irrefutable defense of Wilmington. He thoroughly dissects the question, not to say Mr. Justice, leaving out personal allusions with which we are not concerned. However, he completely unhorses Mr. Justice both as to his knowledge of rate making and as to his adamaversions upon the State's ocean gateway. That is what concerns us most in this instance; and it is what ought so seriously concern the whole State of North Carolina.

Mr. Taylor has stated Wilmington's position clearly and has defended this distributing point with great ability. He has so thoroughly and ably defined the rate question and everything incidental to it, that it is only necessary for one to read it carefully to get the facts of the case without our referring to them, except to commend Wilmington's able advocate and well posted rate student. We are glad the Chamber of Commerce decided to print his exhaustless review in pamphlet form so the members of the General Assembly can take it in, and so the people of the State can comprehend and realize what is about to be "put across" against them and their natural rate basing point, as embodied openly in the proposed compromise offered by the common carriers.

The plainest stipulation in the proposition of the carriers is for the State to sell out its water points so they can compel North Carolina to be dominated by the port of Norfolk instead of the State's depending upon a rate hasing port of its own. The plain truth is that the State of North Carolina is about to be bound in a pact to agree that its water points shall be throttled, and the stipulated price is to lower rates to interior points. North Carolina would sell out cheap if it should accept such a bold and plain proposition and no legislative action could justify it in any particular, especially so when the State has the remedy in its own hands. It remains to be seen whether North Carolina, through its legislature, will compromise its sovereignty and sell its birthright to its natural port when the carriers' proposition in the most unmistakable terms states as the consideration that North Carolina's water points shall be effectively sealed up and the State be bound by the dominancy of Virginit's port. That is what North Carolina is asked to do, and what North Carolina will do if it takes the profferred bait.

However, Mr. Taylor makes it all as plain as day and those who have not read his convincing interpretation of the entire situation should read it and ponder the absolute facts that no amount of astuteness can evade.

COURAGE OF CONVICTIONS.

It is refreshing that the times are not propitious for the old political straddlers who used to sound the people before they would decide what they stood for themselves. Many a politician, instead of leading, has surrendered the courage of his convictions and become subserviant to unreasoning public clamor in some instances. It is well enough to heed the call of the people but not when the masses may have been misled by some of the numerous dangerous isms of the day.

Congressman Gardner, of Massachusetts, is now presenting the spectacle of standing by his own convictions in spite of the platform declarations of his party. The Republicans are supporting him for Governor, although he will not stand on their platform. He has one of his own, and will stand on four planks which the Republican State convention considered and rejected. The question is whether Mr. Gardner or the State convention represents the party.

Mr. Gardner insists on a minimum wage for women and more power for the minimum wage commission, a principle which already has been adopted in Illinois and several other States. He declares for the restriction of immigration, State credit to assist suburban homeseekers, and publicity of the facts in a labor dispute when either party to the dispute demands it. These are the four points rejected by the State Republican convention, and whatever may be said of Mr. Gardner's determination to stand by his guns, he seems to be willing to rise or fall by his own convictions. It may result in breaking party lines, as the campaign will be one of issues instead of partisan party declarations.

DISTRIBUTED WEALTH AMONG THOSE WHO EARNED IT.

Mr. Hermon Simon, a manufacturer of Easton, Pa., recently died and left a fortune of $10,000,000. Strange to say, he bequeathed one-third of it to his faithful employes whom he charges with the responsibility to carry on the business as he conducted it while they helped him to accumulate his wealth. He felt under obligation to those who were so necessary to the success of his factory and felt that it was a duty to them to redistribute to the employes a part of what they had earned.

The Philadelphia Record says if more manufacturers would follow Mr. Simon's example there would be less friction between capital and labor. It was doubtless one instance in which the working men got their part of the benefit from the tariff protection that had its share in making the business profiatble. Evidently the Simon factory was a profitable concern, for the Record says of its success:

"It is significant of the great profits to be derived from successful manufacturing directed by high intelligence and skill that Mr. Simon and his brother only began business in 1874, when their father lent them $50,000 as their capital. Their mills now employ 3,000 operatives, and from the older loyal employes have been chosen those who are to carry on the business, in which they will now have an interest."

While we commend the generosity of the Easton manufacturer, it should be noted what the possibilities of manfacturing are. In 39 years the Simon factory earned profits of more than $250,000 a year. While it is left to every manufacturer to do whatever part he deems advisable by his employes, it is worthwhile to remind Wilmington capitalists that there is good money in manufacturing as well as in other investments. There is another advantage in manufacturing. It increases the population and the pay roll goes toward the support of all branches of business.

POSTHUMUS HINT TO REFORMERS.

In throwing out a hint to radical reformers in general and Editor Hapgood, of Harpers Weekly, "The Journal of the New Civilization," in particular, the New York Tribune calls attention to Emerson's essay on "New England Reformers." This reference is made by the great author to the radicalism and unreason that took possession of the New Englanders when they started out to regulate society and its inherited customs:

The great American author seems to have written for all time, for his philosophy and wisdom can be applied to the insistent reformers of today. The danger of the uncompromising spirit that is embodied in the radicalism that listens to no reason, is that it engenders strong antagonisms. Passion is aroused and then the means of effecting reforms becomes as bad as the evil sought to be corrected.

One of the instances of that kind is the cantankerous position of the radical abotionists, whose uncompromising attitude brought about such a division in the republic that it brought on war and even endangered the union. In the calm light of today, present generations wonder at the lack of statesmanship that did not allay bitterness and settle the slavery question without a resort to arms. The cause of a final appeal to the sword can be traced to the radicals North and South, whose antagonisms created the passion that made compromise impossible.

The Hon. N. J. Rouse, of Kinston, denies the rumor that he has decided not to be an aspirant for the Democratic nomination in the Third Congressional District next year. On the contrary, he writes the Kinston Free Press to say that he is "not prepared to make a positive declaration." He proposes to take his time in considering the matter, but he prepares the public to believe that he has almost decided to run, for he says: "Unless I now greatly mistake the sentiment of the district, I shall permit the use of my name for the nomination."

While listening to his wife making a suffragette speech in Brooklyn, Mr. Lawrence Rupp demanded in a loud voice that she go home and get supper for him and the children. That a man with such a name as Rupp would interrupt a woman's meeting is no surprise. A policeman arrested him for disturbing a public meeting and it was proven at the hearing that he never furnished his wife with anythink to cook for the family. Rupp's eruption failed to disrupt the meeting, but he paved the way for a rupture of a home in which he played the drone.

CURRENT COMMENT.

To the Wilmington Star belongs credit for first remarking that Governor Craig apparently means to send us all to the roads November 5th.—Newbern Sun.

When those North Carolina patriots charged on old Ferguson and his cohorts at Kings Mountain a hundred and thirty-three years ago this afternoon, they were hungry and soaking wet. You take a Tarheel when he is famished that way, and he is formidable to grizzly bears, let alone mere British yeomen.—Greensboro Record.

Give us a public service commission, whose sole duties shall be to handle all freight rate matters, and then reduce intra-State freight rates and valuable service will have been rendered the State by the Legislature.—Charlotte News.

If Mr. Worsham, the State entomologist, succeeds, as he is planning, in getting for Georgia farmers selections of cotton seed that will be high in oil content, long in lint and resistent to black root, wilt and anthracnose he will have done the farmers and the State a big service. Cotton is not going to be abandoned in spite of the pests and diseases that attack it. Any thing that will make their attacks less persistent is important. Mr. Worsham has been trying very hard to help the cotton growers to improve the resistent qualities of their plants and this new effort is one that they will watch with every hope that it will succeed.—Savannah News.

There is no doubt of a determined purpose on part of some of the legislators to abolish the State Corporation Commission by shearing it of its powers, which will be transferred to another body to be created by the Legislature. The war on the Corporation Commission is not founded on entirely good ground. That organization cannot be legislated out of existence on the score that it has failed in its duty, for it has gone as far as its powers would permit. The proper thing would be to retain this Commission for the good work it has done and extend its powers so as to place it in position to meet the emergencies of the future. It was the Corporation Commission that brought about the compromise proposition from the railroads which Governor Craig thought the State should accept. Within its powers the Corporation Commission has worked well and has secured results which should entitle it to some consideration. It may have to go, but it will not be a case of the dismissal of an unfaithful servant. That much can be safely said in its behalf.—Charlotte Observer.

STOCK LAW IN PTNDER.

To the Editor of The Star:

Pender is anxiously watching the stock law fight with a portion of the county at this time already in the stock law zone. If New Hanover would keep Frank Keith in the custom house instead of trying to lead the Democratic Legislature, people around here think we would stand a better show. It is talked around here that Keith is working for another job—that if the stock law carries and should turn out to be unpopular, he would ride and abuse the Democrats and if it should turn out to be popular he would want to claim all the credit for it. At all events Democrats around here don't like the idea of being led around by a Republican officeholder, who was first a Democrat, then a Populist, next a Republican and now a Bull Mooser.

SPEAKS AT CAVALRY DINNER.

Secretary Garrison Addresses Officers and Issues Statement.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Because he felt that some portions of his speech before last night's dinner of cavalry officers had been interpreted as disparaging to the enlisted men of the army, Secretary Garrison today made a statement explaining that he entertains exactly opposite views.

"After speaking of the fine personnel of the officers and the spirit displayed and the affection they had for the service," said the Secretary, "I referred to the enlisted men and indicated that I wished the officers to devote as much time and attention to cultivating the proper spirit in the men as they are devoting to keeping abreast of all the various branches of their profession. I did not express any dissatisfaction with the men at all. I do not feel any such dissatisfaction. On the contrary, I am highly pleased with what I have seen of the enlisted men of the army, and I have seen them in practically every station in the United States."

EXCHANGE APPOINTS COMMITTE

Will Make Close Study of Conditions of Standards.

New York, Oct. 7.—That the New York Cotton Exchange is considering some action with reference to the grades and contract methods which figured so prominently in recently proposed legislation at Washington, was made apparent today through the publication of resolutions passed by the board of managers on October 2nd.

The resolutions provide for the appointment of a committee of seven by the president to consider the question of changing the existing type standards, the question of making such changes in the contract as the committee might deem advisable and inquire into the condition of trading in this market and report back to the board at a special meeting to be held not later than October 20th. The committee was also empowered to call witnesses.

The appointment of such a committee was announced today.

TAKE NEGRESS FROM JAIL.

Illinois Town Narrowly Misses Race War—One Dead.

Joliet, Ill., Oct. 7.—Fifty negroes and as many white persons almost caused a riot in the village of Romeo, near here this afternoon when the negroes attacked the wooden jail and liberated Lucy Gibson, a negress who had been arrested for drunkenness. In the fight one negro was killed and the little jail was demolished.

James Winfield, after calling out all the negro citizens, led an assault against the jail and had succeeded in liberating the woman when Village Trustee James Hausen opened fire. Winfield was killed. The disturbers dispersed.

TWO BIG CLASSES.

Daniels Signs 307 Commissions for Midshipmen.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Secretary Daniels today signed commissions of 307 midshipmen who constitute the largest entering class ever admitted to the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

"The fact that this year's entering class is the largest on record is pretty good evidence that the examinations for admissions are not too difficult," said Mr. Daniels when his attention was called to the criticism on the floor of the House yesterday by Representatives Mann of Illinois, and Howard, of Georgia.

Awaiting The Joyful Sound

The Wonderful Music that Bursts Forth When the Stork Arrives.

That funny, little, brassy cry that echoes the arrival of the new baby is perhaps the most cherished remembrance of our lives. And thousands of happy mothers owe their preservation to health and strength to Mother's Friend. This is an external remedy that is applied to the abdominal muscles. It relieves all the tension, prevents tenderness and pain, enables the muscles to expand gently, and, when baby comes, the muscles relax naturally, the form is preserved without laceration or other accident.

You will find Mother's Friend on sale at almost any drug store, as it is one of the standard, reliable remedies that grandmothers everywhere have relied upon.

With its daily use during the period of expectation, there is no weakness, no nausea, no morning sickness, no pain, distress or strain of any kind. Its influence is truly remarkable, as it penetrates the tissues and renders them pliant and easily governed by the demands of nature. You will be surprised at its wonderful effect and what a grateful relief it affords.

Especially to young women Mother's Friend is one of the greatest of all helpful influences.

DUPREE CAUGHT AT LAST

Chief of Police of Sanford Landed Him Yesterday Morning—Sheriff Cowan Will Bring Him Back Today.

Thos. DuPree, the negro who shot and mortally wounded George Dixon at the Pocomoke guano factory Saturday night and for whose capture a reward aggregating $150 is offered, was arrested yesterday morning by the chief of police of Sanford, and is being held by him pending the arrival of Sheriff Cowan, who, accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Kelly, left last night for that place. They will return to the city today.

The Sanford officer is positive that he has the right negro as he says that he knows him from a previous acquaintance. He also said in speaking with Sheriff Cowan over the telephone yesterday that he got the pistol which corresponds in description to the one used by DuPree in shooting Dixon Saturday afternoon.

Immediately after the shooting Saturday night, Mr. S. L. Boyd, manager of the Pocomoke factory, offered a reward of $50 for DuPree's arrest as did also Mr. C. M. Harley, also of the factory, making a reward of $100. The Board of County Commissioners at its meeting Monday offered an additional reward of $50 bringing the total up to $150. Had he not been apprehended the Governor would have been asked to add another $50 reward by the State.

Many citizens pointed out yesterday the good results achieved by offering a liberal reward for the capture of those wanted for murder. It is stated that there are several wanted here for alleged murders who are still at large, and that little effort has been made by officers in outside sections to apprehend them as they do not feel that they should put themselves to a lot of trouble and be exposed to the dangerous criminals without having some remuneration. In the case of DuPree the offer of the handsome reward caused the officers in all the towns and villages in this section to keep a close watch for him for the reward was worth striving for. The County Commissioners will very probably lend every effort hereafter in the way of offering rewards for murderers who evade the local officers at the time of the crime.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Willie Riley, Colored, Sent to Roads for Six Months.

For beating Rosa Thomas's face up with a bottle Monday night in Meadows' Alley, the Recorder yesterday sent Willie Riley, colored, to the county roads for six months. Bertram Levan, colored, it was alleged, struck Eddie Martin, also colored, with his hand and got 30 days. On account of the absence of witnesses a case against Jim Davis, colored, charged with reckless driving of an automobile which caused the serious injury of Mr. Chas. Borkenhagen Thursday night, was continued until today.

At the request of Herbert McClammy, Esq., attorney for the State, the charge of embezzlement against H. L. Shaw, white, was changed to larceny by trick in a sum less than $20. It was alleged that Shaw while in the employ of the Sterchi-Bancroft-Rich Furniture Company embezzled a sum of money not less than $100. Shaw submitted to the charge as amended by the State, and the judgment of the court was that he go to the roads for 12 months, capias to issue today. The judgment was approved by Solicitor Peschau.

Judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs in a case against Mr. S. M. Boatwright, charged with running an automobile without a rear light. Mr. George Howell submitted to a charge of speeding while inside the city limits, and judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs. Judgment was also suspended upon payment of the costs against Z. A. Graddie, colored, charged with a similar offense.

Amanuel Solomon and Arthur Bennett, young colored boys, charged with vagrancy, were paroled with the understanding that they would be turned over to suitable guardians who would see that they ceased to sleep in other people's houses as they have been doing. Arthur McCollum, white, charged with non-support of his family was found guilty, and prayer for judgment continued until November 7th.

FIRE PREVENTION DAY.

Tomorrow Will be Observed All Over State as Cleaning Up Day.

Tomorrow has been set apart by Insurance Commissioner J. R. Young and Governor Craig as Fire Prevention Day in North Carolina, as previously announced. It is expected that every town and city will have a general cleaning up of papers, trash and anything else that is likely to cause a fire. In many of the towns the ladies of the Civic League take charge of the programme for the day, and make it the occasion for beautifying the home surroundings by tearing down old fences and removing debris that make the premises unsightly.

In Wilmington every day is fire prevention day so far as Fire Chief Schnibben is concerned. He believes emphatically in not having fires, and is therefore making every effort to keep all premises in such shape as not to have them. He stated yesterday that he expected to begin his regular Fall inspection of all buildings and their premises this week. He proposes to enforce the law strictly in regard to safeguarding property within the fire limits. He believes that it would be a good plan for those who have allowed trash and debris to gather around their homes and places of business to make tomorrow a day for cleaning up. If they do not he will require them to observe it at another day not far distant in the future.

THROUGH LOCAL FREIGHT CAR.

From Chicago to North Carolina Points on Seaboard Air Line.

Mr. Howard B. Branch, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, is in receipt of a communication from Mr. J. F. Martin, traffic manager of the Chicago Association of Commerce, notifying him that through the efforts of the association the B. & O. and the Seaboard Air Line railroads have put on a daily through freight car from Chicago to Hamlet for less than carload shipments to North and South Carolina points on the Seaboard Air Line. Mr. Morton states in his letter that packages sent from Chicago via the B. & O., under the new arrangements, should reach Wilmington at 5:30 A. M. on the fifth day after shipment from Chicago. Package shipments from Milwaukee, Racine, Kenosha and Wauhegan, if sent to Chicago by boat, will be sent through on this car. Needless to say this service will meet with the hearty approval of those who have small shipments to come by freight from Chicago.

WORK ON FEDERAL POINT ROAD

Right-of-Way Cleared to Point on Carolina Beach Railroad—Other Road Work Done in the County.

In his monthly report to the Board of County Commissioners, Mr. R. A. Burnett, superintendent of roads, states that the work of clearing out a right-of-way for the new and improved highway to Carolina and Wilmington beaches has reached the point where the road will cross the Carolina Beach railroad, and the force is now at work at Sugar Loaf. About two and one-half miles of right-of-way have been cut and cleared.

Mr. Burnett reported that there are remaining in camp 110 prisoners. During September 28 prisoners were received, 23 were released and two escaped. The county has delivered to B. H. Bridgers, Esq., 574 tons of road material to be used in the improvement of a thoroughfare at Carolina Heights. The automobile truck hauled during the month of September 410 tons of road material along the roads, and some work was done on every wooden bridge in the county. At Bradley's Creek bridge the old piling have been sawed off and recapped. Camp No. 3 and the extra gang have been working on the Gordon road from Castle Haynes to Acorn Branch. Bushes have been cut along the Scott's Hill road from the city limits to Scott's Hill; some patching has been done on the Scott's Hill and Federal Point roads; one man and cart have been steadily engaged patching the shell road, and the Castle Haynes road has been patched from the railroad crossing to Smith's Creek bridge.

The County Home.

Mr. P. H. Rasberry, superintendent of the county home and farm, in making his report for September, calls attention to the urgent need for increased accommodations on the part of the State for taking care of the insane. There are eight insane persons, all colored, at the home now. There are a total of 33 criminals at the farm, three white women, 16 colored women and 14 colored boys, their sentences ranging from three months to three years. There are 26 indigent poor and the eight insane persons, making a total of 67 at the home and farm. The County Commissioners do not like the idea of housing the criminals and indigent poor together and they hope to be able in a short time to provide new quarters, modernly arranged. Mr. Rasberry reported that he had separated the boys from the women, making two gangs which necessitated the employment of an extra guard, which was authorized by Commissioner McGirt, who is chairman of the home and farm committee.

"We are busy housing the crops," reads the report. "The women and boys are picking cotton, the larger boys stacking and hauling in hay, housing corn, cutting wood and doing a number of other necessary things that have to be done on a farm. We are also breaking up new ground that will mean an increase of acreage the coming year.

"I beg to call your attention to the fact that we have at the home several patients who are so helpless that they have to be waited on constantly during the day and at night. Out of a total of 16 colored patients, eight of them are crazy, and while not dangerously insane, they have to be constantly watched and at times give up considerable trouble. Four of the colored inmates are perfectly helpless and have to be waited on and attended to like children. There are two white patients who are practically in the same condition."

Mr. Rasberry strongly recommends that the Commissioners urge upon the State the necessity for increasing the accommodations at the State institutions for the insane, and stated that until the State could care for them they would be given the best attention possible at the home. The Commissioners discussed the question of urging the Legislature to make sufficient appropriations to enlarge the asylums, but it was decided that it would not be worth while as the legislators have been wrestling with this very problem for many years. The question with them is that of finances.

Mr. Rasberry reported that there had been eight escapes during the year and five of these were recaptured.

COURT COLLECTIONS.

Still After Delinquents in the Recorder's Court.

County officials are still after those persons who were reported by Special Auditor Albert H. Marsh last January as being indebted to the Recorder's court for fines and costs and more than $1,000 of the $5,000 then outstanding has been collected. The officials have hopes of getting at least $1,000 more of this amount within the next few weeks, as the County Commissioners have requested Sheriff Cowan to appoint as special deputy for this purpose Mr. H. Mack Godwin, who has agreed to make the collections on 10 per cent commission. He thinks he will be able to collect $800 or $1,000 of the amount outstanding.

Approximately $800 was collected from delinquents after January 1st by Mr. F. T. Skipper, who retired as clerk of the court on May 1st, when the office was consolidated with that of the Clerk of Superior Court. Since the first of May $278.95 has been collected by Mr. Cyrus D. Hogue, Deputy Clerk of Superior Court, and acting clerk of the Recorder's court. The first month he was in office he collected $190.15. The collections in June, July, August and September were not so good because most of the better accounts had been settled prior to that time. Many of the capiases that were issued from the Recorder's court were returned by the sheriff with the notation "not to be found." From time to time new capiases are being issued from the clerk's office and placed in the hands of the sheriff for service. Besides the amount collected in money under the new administration of the clerk's office, some 15 or 20 delinquents have been arrested and sent to the roads to work out the amount of the fines and costs. A total of 325 capiases have been issued from the clerk's office since the first of May.

When the matter of engaging Mr. Godwin on a commission basis was brought up before the board Monday afternoon, the Commissioners asked Mr. J. A. Orrell, the county auditor, a number of questions relative to the advisability of taking this step and in his replies the impression was left that he meant to say that nothing had been collected since Mr. Skipper went out of office. What Mr. Orrell intended to say was that some $800 was collected before Mr. Skipper went out of office and that since then very little had been collected, this being due partly to the fact that the better accounts were already adjusted when the change in the clerk's office took place and partly to the fact that those still in arrears have been able to dodge the process servers from the sheriff's office.

OBSERVE DAY OF PRAYER

Women of the Wilmington Presbyterial Will Gather Saturday at Rose Hill—Attractive Programme.

Women of the Wilmington Presbyterial will gather at Rose Hill Saturday of this week to attend and take part in the observance of the "Day of Prayer." 25TH ANNIVERSARY.

Bishop Leo Haid Will Celebrate in This City in November.

Announcement was made Sunday at St. Mary's Pro-Cathedral by Rev. Father Dennen that on November 9th Bishop Leo Haid, of Belmont, would celebrate the 25th anniversary of his Episcopal Consecration. The church celebration will take place in St. Mary's Pro-Cathedral, this city, and will be attended by prominent members of the church, both clergy and laymen, from different parts of the country. Committees will be appointed in a few days to have charge of the details of the arrangements.

Members of the Knights of Columbus, of which Bishop Haid is also a member, have suggested that the order in North Carolina present to the Rt. Rev. Jubilarian, as a token of their friendship, a purse, made up of offerings from the Knights. Bishop Haid has had much to do with the development of the Catholic church in this State. When he first took up his work within its borders several decades ago there were few churches and priests while today there are many churches, schools and hospitals from the mountains to the sea. Since he is to make his Apostolic visit to Rome next Spring his fellow Knights think it most appropriate to take this method of showing their appreciation of his splendid work.

A NORTHEASTER YESTERDAY.

Rainy Weather Along Coast Makes Matters Unpleasant.

Whether the inauguration of the world series of baseball games had anything to do with it or not, the deponent saith not, but there is one thing certain that coincident with Bender's magnificent victory over the bully Giants and Baker's sensational home run it began to rain torrents around Wilmington. Yesterday morning the wind was blowing strong from the Northeast, and this caused the weather man considerable puzzling, but he finally figured it ou that it was stormy and up went the storm signal.

It was decidedly stormy—no question about that—but that which caused the most discomfort to those who had to be out of doors was the rain which had a way of coming most unexpectedly. Persons having business in the next block would start out without raincoats and before they had gone many steps they would be met by a shower which would drench them before they could find a shelter even in a nearby store. It was a time when it was best to stay indoors.

The storm and rain was reported as starting around Charleston, S. C., and moving northward along the coast. It is the gusty weather that is usual around the equinoctial season though a little late this year.

HELD ON PERJURY CHARGE.

Will Berry and Hattie Bluefield Committed to Jail Without Bond.

Will Berry and Hattie Bluefield, both colored, who are charged with committing perjury on the witness stand in the inquest over the body of George Dixon Monday, had a preliminary hearing before Justice Harriss yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. They were held for the next term of Superior Court without bond. The affidavits in the cases were made out by Coroner John J. Fowler at the conclusion of the inquest Monday afternoon.

Both negroes testified Sunday on the stand that they were in another house when the shooting of Dixon occurred, and that they ran out when they saw Dupree come out of the door. Other witnesses examined Monday afternoon stated that Berry, the Bluefield woman, Dixon and Dupree were playing cards in the house just before the shooting. Several stated that they saw them standing on the porch of the house just after the shooting.

They were arrested Saturday night by the officers and held as material witnesses until Monday afternoon when they were re-arrested on the warrants issued by Justice Harriss upon affidavit of Coroner Fowler.

Death of Aged Citizen.

Mr. P. K. Meeks, an aged and respected citizen, died yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Scott's Hill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. H. Blake. His death was caused by a complication of diseases incidental to his extreme age—87 years. He was a native of Pender county, and resided there until three years ago, when he went to live with his daughter after the death of his aged wife. The funeral will be held this afternoon from Mt. Williams' Presbyterian church near Burgaw.

BEGIN THE FALL CAMPAIGN

Ladies of Red Cross Society Held a Meeting Yesterday—Active Work Along Many Lines to be Undertaken.

Plans for carrying on the work of the Red Cross Society during the Fall and Winter months were discussed at a meeting, the first since last Spring, held in the parlors of the Colonial Inn yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. Mrs. Cuthbert Martin, the efficient and capable president, presided, and a record of the proceedings was kept by the secretary, Mrs. S. Mendelsohn.

Among the many matters receiving attention was the new Red Cross tuberculosis hospital, which is being erected on land donated by New Hanover county on the Gordon road, northeast of Wilmington, and which will be completed between the 1st and 15th of next month. A full description of the building, together with suggestions for raising the necessary funds to pay the amount due by the Red Cross, was given in the report of Dr. J. C. Wessell, acting chairman of the building committee.

The report of the relief fund from May 1st through September showed that 36 patients were furnished with ice and milk daily. House rent paid for six families and 16 families were furnished with groceries.

The total amount received from the city and county from May 1st to October 1st, was $1,375, and the expenditures from this amount were as follows: Milk, $274.50; rent, $130; groceries, $386.99; Mr. Williams, $86.20; cleaning, $18; screens, $2.45; cups for hospital $14; tickets, $34.50; wood, $14.85; plumbing, $6.25; ice, $65.15; the total being, $1,032.89.

Other reports made were those of the nurses' committee, the visiting committee, corresponding secretary, Dr. Nesbitt, health supervisor, and Dr. Jos. Akerman, treasurer of the building committee of the Red Cross hospital. All the reports showed that the work of the society had not been neglected during the Summer, even though there have not been any formal meetings of the members.

It was decided to have a linen shower on October 24th, in order that those who wish to contribute to the support of the hospital by giving linen, money or other things of value, can do so. The colored people are also greatly interested in the hospital, and will have a linen shower for its benefit.

On October 22nd the annual meeting of the Red Cross Society will be held, and at this time officers for the year will be elected. Other important matters will also receive attention.

One of the matters discussed at the meeting yesterday was the sale of Red Cross seals. Last year there were returns from 90,500 seals, and this year it is planned to sell 100,000 of these, and perhaps more.

NEW FARMERS' LINE.

Extension of Telephone Service on the Castle Haynes Road.

Mr. Stephen D. Lucas, local manager of the Southern Bell Telephone Company, announced yesterday that a new farmers' phone line will soon be connected with the exchange in this city. This line will extend about six miles on the Castle Haynes road and will furnish service to the following: W. B. Rhodes, Jr., D. L. Gore (two telephones); J. A. Kerr, B. B. Trask and J. G. Seitter. The contract for the line has been signed by Mr. W. B. Rhodes.

Manager Lucas said that there is considerable activity among the farmers in the matter of securing telephone service in their homes. He has had a number of inquiries and states that the indications are that several new contracts for connection with the Wilmington exchange will soon be signed.

The extension of telephone service to the farm is valuable to the merchants and business men in the city, placing them in constant communication with an important element of their trade. There are a number of farmers' telephone lines in New Hanover county and the progressive farmers are realizing the value and advantage of being in such close touch with their friends and neighbors and the business centers.

MALARIAL EXPERT COMING.

Congressman Faison Writes He Will Reach Here at Early Date.

Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt has received a letter from Congressman Faison stating that a malarial expert will be here about the middle of this month to give lectures on malaria and make a thorough investigation of malarial conditions generally. The exact date has not yet been determined, but this will be done as soon as Dr. Nesbitt is able to communicate with the proper department at Washington. Preparatory to these lectures and the investigations that are to be made Dr. Nesbitt has mailed out a large number of bulletins on the mosquito and its relation to malaria to a large number of people in the county. These were sent to him by Congressman Faison for distribution where he thought they would do the most good.

INCREASED ATTENDANCE.

Large Number of New Pupils Enrolled in City Schools Yesterday.

Notwithstanding the large enrollment Monday in the city public schools, there were a large number of students enrolled yesterday. Several of the buildings are taxed to their utmost capacity. Supt. Blair is highly pleased with the outlook for a most successful year, and his biggest trouble just now is devising ways and means of accommodating all the children who are applying for admission to the schools. It is probable that within the next day or so a definite mode of procedure will be decided upon for taking care of the overflow at some of the school buildings.

IT SAVES YOU MONEY.

Dr. Howard's Dyspepsia Specific; Regular Price 50c; J. Hicks Bunting's Price 25c.

The special half price sale of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia by the J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co. means the saving of a few dollars on every family's yearly bill for medicines.

Each 50 cent bottle (Mr. J. Hicks Bunting sells it for 25c) contains sixty doses of a medicine that is pleasant to take and which can be depended upon to cure the worst case of constipation, dyspepsia or liver trouble.

This remedy is not an ordinary medicine. It is the favorite formula of a well known physician, and has the endorsement of hundreds of physicians of eminence in their profession, dyspepsia or liver trouble, knowing from experience that it will make a complete and lasting cure.

FUNERAL OF MR. FRENCH.

Services from Residence Yesterday Afternoon—Interment in Oakdale.

Attended by many friends the funeral of Mr. John Timmons French, whose death occurred Monday afternoon, was held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the family home, No. 113 North Eighth street, conducted by Rev. Dr. J. H. Foster, pastor of the First Baptist church, assisted by Rev. Andrew J. Howell, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian church. The floral offerings were many and beautiful. The interment was in Oakdale cemetery. The following were the pallbearers: Messrs. Graham Herring, P. Heinsberger, J. N. Jacobi, W. C. Smith, Albert Creasy and Capt. L. D. Potter.

MR. J. D. ORRELL'S FUNERAL.

Services From Residence Yesterday Attended by Many Friends.

The funeral of Mr. J. Dallas Orrell, whose death occurred suddenly Sunday night at his residence, No. 606 Orange street, was held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the home, conducted by Rev. T. P. Yates, of the International Bible Students' Association. For the past 15 years Mr. Orrell had been an ardent member and supporter of the association. There were a large number of friends at the services, which were simple yet impressive. Many floral designs attested the esteem in which Mr. Orrell was held among the people of the city. The interment was in Oakdale cemetery. The pall-bearers were: Honorary, Dr. Wright Hall, Capt. W. F. Corbett and Capt. W. H. Northrop; active, Messrs. J. A. Orrell, J. D. Orrell, Jr., J. T. King, W. H. Rothwell, W. R. Hudler and Norwood Orrell.

The City of Fayetteville.

The contract for raising the City of Fayetteville has not yet been awarded but probably will be given some time this week. All the cotton has been removed, and everything is in readiness for beginning the work of raising the boat. The cause of her sinking has not been definitely determined.

If science could slip identify-graft germs, fewer men of a certain sort would run for office.

THE PUBLIC INVITED TO RECEPTION AT BRIGADE.

The opening reception of the Boys' Brigade will be held tomorrow night, beginning at 8:30 and continuing until 11 o'clock, and it will certainly be an enjoyable occasion. The invitation is for the public at large and all are cordially invited to become the guests of the social committee and other members of the Brigade for this pleasant event. A splendid programme of vocal and instrumental music and recitations has been arranged. Col. Walker Taylor will make an address on a timely subject, probably presenting some special phase of Brigade work which will be of peculiar interest to the friends of the institution. The armory will be decorated appropriately by a committee of ladies and will present an unusually beautiful appearance.

After the musical programme dainty refreshments will be served by a committee of ladies, assisted by the social committee. Everything will be free and a good time is promised to all who attend. It is barely possible that a short game of basketball will be played after refreshments have been served.

CONFEDERACY DAUGHTERS BEGIN ANNUAL SESSIONS.

Tarboro, N. C., Oct. 7.—More than 150 delegates, representing every chapter in the State, are in attendance here on the 17th annual convention of the North Carolina Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy. The convention was formally opened tonight with welcome addresses by Mayor Paul Jones, Mrs. John L. Bridgers in behalf of William Dorsey Pender Chapter, and Mrs. Mary Speed Mercer, representing Miles Harvey Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. The response was by Mrs. Marshall Williams, of Faison, president of the North Carolina Division.

Mrs. Thad W. Thrash, president of the local chapter, presided. Prior to the formal opening, Mrs. John L. Bridgers entertained at her country home, "Hilma", in honor of Mrs. Gen. Wm. Dorsey Pender, of Norfolk, honorary president of the local chapter, which bears the name of her distinguished husband.

Following the formal welcoming, Mrs. W. A. Hart gave a brilliant reception, the receiving line including Mesdames Josephus Daniels, Washington, D. C.; William Dorsey Pender, Norfolk; Thomas Craig, Gastonia; Leo Heartt, Raleigh; Miss Jessica Randolph Smith, Henderson.

WEDDING OF INTEREST AT MAGNOLIA, N. C.

Magnolia, N. C., Oct. 7.—The marriage of Miss Sallie Gertrude Carroll, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Carroll, of East Magnolia, and Mr. Stephen Johnston, of Willard, which was celebrated at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, July 30th, was marked by a beautiful home ceremony with all the details that go to make a beautiful wedding, carried out with simplicity and good taste. The vows were taken before Rev. W. P. M. Currie, of Wallace. There was a quiet beauty and dignity in the decorations. In the centre of the room was a large arch of woods vine and smilax, under which the bride and groom stood during the ceremony. The wedding music was rendered by Miss Nadine Williams, Lohengrin's and Mendelssohn's marches being used.

The attendants were Mr. Stephen W. Carroll with Miss Fannie Johnston; Mr. Herman Carroll with Miss Willie Blackburn; Mr. Hendley J. Carr with Miss Vera Herring; Mr. G. Thurman Wells with Miss Maggie Edwards. The bride had as her dame of honor her sister, Miss Pauline. The groom was attended by Mr. George J. Powers as best man. The bride was beautifully dressed in a traveling suit with shoes, hat and gloves to match.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Johnston left for the depot to catch the northbound train for a bridal tour. They will make their home in Willard, N. C.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING CELEBRATED YESTERDAY.

The home of Capt. and Mrs. Thos. D. Meares, No. 408 Market street, was the scene of a beautiful wedding of wide social interest at quarter after five o'clock yesterday afternoon, when their charming daughter, Miss Jane Young Meares, became the bride of Mr. Eugene Moore Beery, a prominent young business man of Wilmington, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Dr. Wm. H. Milton, rector of St. James' Episcopal church, of which the bride is a member, and of which her family on both sides have all been members for four generations. The ceremony was witnessed by only the immediate families of the bride and groom and a few close friends.

The bridal party entered the attractively decorated parlor, where the impressive ceremony was performed, to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, beautifully rendered by Mr. E. H. Munson, who played Mendelssohn's Wedding March as the recessional.

The bride was becomingly attired in white charmeuse satin, trimmed with embroidered chiffon and Duchess lace and the only jewelry worn was a necklace of seed pearls with topaz settings, which were first worn by the bride's great grandmother at a ball given in honor of LaFayette in October, 1824, both her grandmother and mother wearing them at their weddings. Her tulle veil was caught with orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of white carnations. Miss Mary F. Meares, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and she wore blue crepe de chine trimmed with Duchess lace and pearl passementerie and carried a bouquet of blush pink carnations.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held, lasting until 7 o'clock. A large number of the friends of the bride and groom attended and extended to the couple their felicitations and best wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Beery left on the evening northbound train for points of interest in the North on their wedding trip and upon their return in about ten days will be at home to their friends at the residence of the bride's father, where they will for the present make their home.

The out-of-town guests here to attend the wedding were Miss Eleanor Young, of Stockton, Cal.; Mr. Frank G. Harriss, of Winston-Salem, both first cousins of the bride; Miss Chase, of Brookline, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Blackwell, of Marion, S. C., and Miss Gertrude Meares, of Ridgeway, S. C.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

—Col. W. B. Fort, of Pikeville, was here yesterday.

—Mr. R. D. Carr, of Magnolia, was a business visitor in the city yesterday.

—Donald McRackan, Esq., of Whiteville, was a visitor to the city yesterday.

—Mr. E. E. Hunter, division freight and passenger agent of the Seaboard, returned yesterday from Raleigh where he spent several days on business.

—Rev. Dr. J. M. Wells, pastor, and Mr. W. M. Cumming, representing the First Presbyterian church, and Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor of St. Andrew's, are attending the annual meeting of the State Synod of the Presbyterian church at Greensboro this week.

LOCAL DOTS.

—License was issued yesterday for the marriage of Mr. Clyde C. Dickinson and Miss Nellie R. Moore, both of this city.

—On account of being under age, Lida Potts, a 11-year-old colored girl, charged with the larceny of a muff, was discharged yesterday by Justice Harriss. She was arrested last week.

—The regular weekly meeting of the City Council will be held this morning at 10 o'clock. So far as known at the City Hall yesterday there were no matters of special interest scheduled for consideration today.

—The trial of John W. Steerer, head steward on the Clyde Line steamer Cherokee, charged with violating the prohibition law, has been set for next Tuesday before Justice Harriss, who issued the warrant against him. Steerer put up a cash bond of $200 for his appearance at trial at that time.

—Building permits were issued yesterday to Moses Jacobs for the erection of a dwelling on Second street, between Marstellar and Kidder, the estimated cost being $500, and to L. Gyer for the erection of a dwelling on Eighth street, between Meares and Marstellar, the estimated cost being $400.

—A series of revival meetings are being held this week at Seagate Baptist church, conducted by Rev. C. C. Wheeler, of Southport. The attendance has been gratifyingly large and much interest has been shown in the services. Two meetings are held each day, at 3 in the afternoon and 7:30 at night.

—Deeds were filed for record yesterday as follows: Southeastern Realty Co., to H. Houston Merritt and wife, for $10 and other considerations, lot on northwest corner of 13th and Princess streets, 55x122 feet in size; Wilmington Beach Corporation to C. E. Greenamyer, for $10 and other considerations, lot 6 in block 11, Wilmington Beach.

—Higher tides than usual were reported at Wrightsville last night, but nothing that would indicate danger. The last car left the beach at midnight, and the tide was reported as being several feet below the trestle work on the bridge across the sound. It was rising at that time and did not reach its highest until early this morning. A high wind was blowing but not a dangerous one.

—City Engineer Pillet has invited several paving contractors to submit bids for improving with asphalt blocks the block on Front street, between Red Cross street and the union station. It is hoped to let the contract and begin the work in a short time now. It is likely that the spur track of the Tidewater Power Co. in the center of the street will be allowed to remain on the thoroughfare.

—October 22nd will be observed as North Carolina Day at the National Conservation Exposition at Knoxville, Tenn. Hon. Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy, and Governor Craig are expected to make addresses, and perhaps other distinguished North Carolinians. All railroads of the South have made a special rate of one cent a mile. Mr. Howard B. Branch, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, has received a special invitation to Wilmingtonians to visit the exposition on this day.

PELLAGRA IN PANAMA.

Mostly Among Natives—50 Cases Recently.

Colon, Oct. 7.—A study of pellagra in the West Indies is to be made by the British expert, Dr. Louis Westenna Sambon, of the London School of Tropical Medicine, who left here for Trinidad today accompanied by Capt. Joseph F. Siler, U. S. A. medical corps and A. H. Jennings, chief of the bureau of entomology at Washington.

During his sojourn on the isthmus Dr. Sambon kept in close touch with Col. William C. Gorgas, and found that fully 50 cases of pellagra had occurred on the isthmus within the last three years, mostly among natives or the Barbadoes and Jamaica.

..Theatrical..

Annie Russell's Comedy Company which comes to Wilmington on the night of Monday, October 13th, played last season in Boston, where it made a deep impression with the revival of "She Stoops to Conquer," comedy that will be played at the Academy of Music here.

In Boston a very fond tradition is woven about the old English comedies. The older generation of Boston play-goers cherish a very delightful memory of the days of the old Boston Museum, where each season the old pieces were revived with a cast of old favorites who brought perennial joy to lovers of high-class comedies. A generation spans the golden age of the old Museum days and the theatre of today. Tastes have changed, the school of acting has been modified, and conditions of the theatre have been greatly altered, but the appeal of these charming comedies seems to be as wide and strong as it was when they upset the sentimental school of comedy in England in 1773.

The older and the younger generation of Boston play-goers warmly welcomed the return of the plays so deeply set in local tradition. The critic of the Boston Transcript found that the Russell company's reproductions of the classics had more charm and gave greater pleasure than this generation of our theatre has known.

Seats for Miss Russell's appearance, which will be one of the notable events of the season, will go on sale at J. Hicks Bunting's drug store Saturday morning.

"A Girl of the Underworld."

"A Girl of the Underworld" that plays at the Academy of Music Tuesday, October 14th, is a clear, concise, modern comedy drama. The most fastidious cannot take offense at this beautiful play in any respect. It is educational to those who are seeking hidden knowledge of the underworld. The underworld of New York contains more criminals than any prison in the world. There crime flourishes, there deeds that are black are enacted daily to the horror of the respected community. The criminals of the underworld of New York are not dressed as thugs and murderous looking individuals, but on the contrary are dressed in the height of fashion, and mingle with some of New York's most prominent figures. Their influence politically is a wonderful protection to them. You will find them at balls, operas, and social functions of every kind. Some of these criminals are large property owners and are wealthy. While the less fortunate are ready to commit any crime for any sum. "The Girl of the Underworld" shows their methods and it is almost unbelievable to some people that this play is founded on actual facts. You will miss the lesson of your life if you fail to see "A Girl of the Underworld."

Owing to the number of big attractions crowded into next week a special scale of prices has been arranged, such scale being 10, 20, 30 and 50 cents. Seats will go on sale at Hicks Bunting's drug store Monday morning.

At The Grand.

Essanay's great two-reel special release, "While the Starlight Travels" heads an unusually brilliant film bill and one of great dimensions today at the cozy, handsome Grand. It is a strange, weird, gripping story that has its origin before history was written, in the time of the cave dwellers, and its ending during the War Between the States. It is a thrilling dramatic that will fascinate and one which should not be missed. A notable cast appears and the scenery is decidedly beautiful.

Kalem's latest fun picture—a laugh a second—is also on the programme in "Bogg's Predicament," and it tells a most novel story, of a wealthy bachelor, who injures his foot and is compelled to keep it at a particular angle. Of the maneuvers of his valet and "Second Story Ike." It's something bright and new in the fun line.

"Children of the Tenements" is another splendid film that will prove not only of great value as an entertainer, but of much worth in the way of information. Today is going to be one of the biggest of all days artistically at The Grand, and all for the small price of 5 cents—and remember, the books are still on sale at the office, 12 tickets for 50 cents.

Warner Feature at Bijou.

A Warner feature at the popular Bijou today. That's all, so far as news to the amusement public, which, learning to expect these great film features at their favorite theatre, which holds exclusive rights for them, will pack the Bijou this afternoon and tgain tonight. However, so far as the show goes, that will not be all, as there are other films, including Selig's great star, "Rejected Lovers' Sick," and a new musical programme.

But the Warner feature is what all eagerly look forward to and which is the sensation of the day. The one today, in three big reels, mind you, is "The Raiders of the Mexican Border," a very live subject at the present day. It is a mammoth presentation, in which one complete battery of artillery, two troops of cavalry, 300 horses, 200 Mexican soldiers, 500 American soldiers and 1,000 other people are seen. The principal roles are portrayed by well known artists and the scenes and plot depict realism so vividly that the audience can scarcely keep from rising to its feet. It is the greatest story ever filmed, at the greatest outlay of money. Regardless of this great special release Warner feature, the price of admission remains the same—5 cents.

There are always a few persons along the shore who ought to be out rocking the boat.

Y. M. C. A. DIRECTORS MEET.

Regular Monthly Session Held Last Night in Rooms of Secretary.

The board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. held their regular monthly business meeting last night in the offices of the general secretary, Mr. J. B. Huntington. This was the first meeting that the board has held in the new building, and they took this opportunity of inspecting the entire building, and were more than pleased with the splendid equipment which has been provided by the generosity of the people of Wilmington for helping the young men and boys of this city.

A number of routine matters were taken up among these being the reports of the membership, finance and building committees, all of which were most satisfactory. The time for the formal opening of the new building was discussed but no definite action taken. Plans for enlarging the work of the association were also discussed.

Secretary Huntington and his able corps of assistants have been busy for the last few days getting things in readiness for the opening of the building to the young men and boys of the city. Today the boys' department will be opened for social privileges, and the senior department will be opened within a few days. The gymnasium and physical department will be opened in about ten days. Plans are being made for work along religious, educational and social lines which it is believed will be of great benefit to the membership. Extension work will also be undertaken by which it is hoped to get in touch with all the young men of the city.

FUNERAL OF AGED CITIZEN.

Capt. W. J. Kermon Laid to Rest Yesterday Afternoon.

Yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock from the residence at No. 621 South Second street, the funeral of Capt. W. J. Kermon, whose death occurred Monday afternoon, was held, conducted by Rev. W. G. Hall, pastor of Southside Baptist church. The interment was in Bellevue cemetery. The services were attended by many friends, and there was a profusion of floral designs. The pall-bearers were Messrs. J. W. Barnes, R. R. Robbins, J. W. Frederick, G. W. Frederick, Capt. Jessie D. Price and Capt. P. T. Dickey.

—In the opening games of baseball of the series to determine the championship of Company C, of the Boys' Brigade, for this season, Ruark defeated Futrell by a score of 14 to 2, and James defeated Griffith by a score of 13 to 4. James and Ruark will meet Friday, while Griffith will meet Futrell on the same day.

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETICS.

Meeting Yesterday of the Association —Officers Elected.

The High School Athletic Association held a called meeeing yesterday at the recess hour and elected officers for the ensuing term. Mr. Hicks, of the Senior class, was elected president; Mr. Wagner, of the same class, was elected treasurer. Mr. Nash was elected business manager of the football team, and Messrs. Shepherd and Hall were elected assistant managers. The prospects for a splendid football team again this year are fine. Over 25 candidates for places on the squad were at practice yesterday and in the number were several new men. The team will play a number of games this year with strong High School elevens, and already four or five games have been arranged.

A sudden step from poverty to riches more often than not is followed by slips and tumbles.

COTTON MARKET UNSETTLED

Better Weather, Easier Southern Spot Markets and Tendency to Revise Recent Estimates of Crop Responsible.

New York, Oct. 7.—The cotton market was generally weak and unsettled today, owing to reports of easier Southern spot markets, rather a better weather map than expected as to temperatures in the Southwest, and a tendency to revise recent small estimates of the crop.

December contracts sold off to 13.39, and the market closed barely steady at a net loss of from 21 to 25 points.

Lower Liverpool cables attributed to increased offerings of actual and a less active trade demand, combined with the failure of early weather advices to show any trace of the frosts that had been privately predicted yesterday, caused an active selling movement at the opening. First prices were easy, at a decline of 12 to 21 points with active months selling 19 to 21 points net lower, right after the call. A rally of 8 or 9 points followed on the Western belt forecast for unsettled and cooler weather, and reports that spinners were good buyers around the opening figures, but the market soon eased off again under continued liquidation or realizing, Southern and foreign selling. After showing a net loss of from 24 to 29 points, prices again stiffened up on renewed covering and reports of rains in the Southwest. There was no aggressive support, however, and the market eased again in the late trading on reports of lower Southern spot markets and a private crop estimate placing the yield at 14,350,000, including linters, providing that frost comes at an average date. Closing prices showed rallies of 3 or 4 points from the lowest on January and March, but were generally at the lowest point of the day.

UPHOLDS LOWER COURT.

U. S. Supreme Court Handed Down Decision in Indiana Case.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—The United States Court of Appeals today upheld the Indiana State Board of Health in the benzoate of soda cases.

The original action was filed in the United States district court at Indianapolis when the Curtice Brothers Company sought to enjoin the Indiana health board from enforcing the law of 1907 making it a crime to sell food containing benzoate of soda.

The District Court refused the injunctions and an appeal was taken with the result announced here today.

WHEAT MARKET IMPROVED

GOVERNMENT DEPOSITS.

Thirty Million of Crop Moving Money Now in Banks.

Washington, Oct. 7.—The Treasury Department has deposited in National banks $30,408,000 of the proposed $50,000,000 of government crop moving funds. About $19,500,000 more will be put out during the next few weeks. The deposits so far have been distributed by States as follows:

Alabama $1,170,000; Arkansas $600,000; District of Columbia $407,000; Florida $792,000; Georgia $1,622,000; Kentucky $1,570,000; Louisiana $3,275,000; Maryland $2,700,000; Mississippi $500,000; North Carolina $1,250,000; South Carolina $1,500,000; Tennessee $2,145,000; Texas $900,000; Virginia $850,000; Colorado $350,000; Illinois $4,000,000; Indiana $475,000; Kansas $100,000; Minnesota $500,000; Missouri $4,125,000; New Mexico $50,000; Oklahoma $127,000; Oregon $800,000; Pennsylvania $75,000; Utah $125,000; Washington $400,000.

HUMPHRIES EMPTIES JAIL.

Releases All Those Imprisoned for "Talking Back."

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 7.—Superior Judge John E. Humphries issued an order late today releasing the 31 men and six women socialists confined in the county jail for "talking back" to him when they were arraigned for contempt of court.

Judge Humphries thus forestalled Governor Lister, on the way here to devise means of releasing the prisoners and to confer with six King county judges relative to possible proceedings for the removal of Judge Humphries.

The court's action disposed of the last of the contempt cases resulting from wholesale signing of "resolutions of defiance" of anti-street speaking injunctions issued by Judge Humphries.

STOCKS MADE SLIGHT RISE

Afternoon Selling Was Small—Traders Took More Interest in Baseball Than in the Market—Notes.

New York, Oct. 7.—Stocks rose slightly in the early trading today, with the best showing of strength by Reading, Canadian Pacific, Can and Amalgamated Copper. In the second hour the market fell back again and business virtually ceased.

Prices were at a dead level until shortly before the close, when there was another small upturn. Final changes among the leading stocks were unimportant. Tobacco issues were exceptionally weak.

The significant feature of the day was cessation of the liquidation in Iron and Steel stocks. It was the opinion of some traders that selling of these stocks had been overdone, and covering of shorts was the main factor in the morning advance. Aside from the demand from this source, bidding for stocks was small. After the covering movement ceased, the market was allowed to take care of itself.

In the afternoon trading was on the smallest scale of many weeks. Between 1 and 2 o'clock only 7,000 shares changed hands. Traders took more interest in baseball than in the stock market.

The firmer tone of American stocks in London influenced the opening here. Hardening money rates tended to restrict speculation. Time money rates were advanced for the short periods. Call loans were nearly 1 per cent. above yesterday's rate, although call money did not rise above 4 per cent., whereas 5 per cent. was quoted for late loans yesterday.

Bonds were steady. Total sales, par value, $1,274,000. United States bonds, unchanged on call. Total sales, 177,800, including American Tobacco, 900; C. and O., 1,000; Lehigh, 400; L. and N., 400; N. and W., 300; S. A. DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, Oct. 7.—Domestic cotton goods markets held steady today. Knitting yarns were higher. Light orders have been placed for imported men's wear for Spring. Silks and ribbons were in less active demand.

APPEAL FOR HELP.

Destroyed by Storm and Facing Bitter Winter.

Nome, Alaska, Oct. 7.—Mayor George A. Jones has issued the following appeal through the Associated Press:

"A tidal storm has destroyed one-half of Nome. The damage is estimated at one million dollars. Five hundred persons are homeless, most of them destitute. Winter is approaching and public assistance is necessary. Funds should be sent to the city treasurere of Nome."

The storm along the Alaskan coast is abating. Three unidentified bodies have been washed ashore here. The steamships Victoria, Navajo and Corwin are safe at anchor seven miles out.

Though the waves are still high and the wind is blowing about 30 miles an hour, fears of further destruction from fire are small. The storm is over and the work of repair and of helping the hundreds of needy is under way.

AVOID THE BRONCHIAL COUGHS OF EARLY FALL

The changeable weather of early Fall brings on bronchitis and a hard cough that is wearing on the system, and seems to tear open the bronchial tubes and mucus lining of the throat. Use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound promptly. For it will soothe and heal the inflamed mucus lining, relieve the cough quickly, and help to expel the cold. It contains no opiates. Get the genuine in the yellow package, and refuse substitutes.—R. R. Bellamy.

or another. The House also voted to kill the bill for a new building for the Department of Agriculture, an amendment by Mr. Dowd that was previously adopted providing that the building be erected at the A. & M. College being largely responsible.

Among the bills passed were: Incorporation Cape Lookout, Western Railroad Company; change boundary line of town of Clarkton; levy special road tax in Scotland county and to increase pay of jurors.

When the House resolved itself into committee of the whole again on constitutional amendments, Mr. Dowd sent forward an amendment designed to prevent the poll tax from being an issue in the campaign, and much discussion resulted. Finally the matter was referred to committee.

Section 1, Article XXII, relative to the chartering of corporations was passed without division and then the amendments providing for a six months school term was voted, 63 to 31, after several speeches.

Initiative and Referendum.

The initiative and referendum proposal, the Justice measure, came up. Representative Page offered an amendment to provide that the initiative and referendum aply to all sub-divisions of the State. Speaking on his proposal Mr. Justice declared that the trend of the times is in the direction of the practice of government by the people so that they may govern actually and not theoretically. Representative Doughton in opposition to the proposal said it was intended to strike down all the safeguards of the people. "Wild, Bleeding Kansas," had defeated the initiative and referendum and North Carolina should be much further from its adoption, being a conservative State. In the end the proposal was voted down 48 to 51.

The Bible proposal was taken up and the vote taken without discussion. It was 42 to 55 against adoption.

Mr. Kellum, of New Hanover, introduced a bill affecting shrimp in New Hanover.

The House adjourned at 8 o'clock tonight.

House—Night Session.

The House tonight passed bills on final reading, as follows: Relative to holding courts in Alamance county; protect livestock in Harnett county; prohibit illegal sale of liquor in Morehead City township; prohibit the shipment of liquor into the town of Trinity; relating to the Superior Courts of Edgecombe county; change time for holding courts in Scotland and Union judicial districts; promote shrimp industry in North Carolina; protect game birds in Robeson county; prevent fox hunting in Lee county between certain dates; ratify road bond issue in Rockfish township, Duplin county.

Swallowed Hook and All.

The joint resolution for the acceptance of the proposal of the inter-State carriers for the settlement of the inter-State rate differences as recommended by the Corporation Commission and the Governor, came up and after a spirited speech in opposition by Representative Kellum, of Wilmington, and a futile effort on the part of Mr. Dowd to have the measure postponed to Thursday. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 79 to 22 and was sent to the Senate.

Mr. Kellum Speaks.

In his speech in opposition to the acceptance of the rate proposal Mr. Kellum insisted that the proposal was nothing more than a settlement of the pending suits by the Corporation Commission pending with the Inter-State Commerce Commission. He set out that the proposal does not give equal reductions to all parts of the State. He read rates from the West to Norfolk comparing them with the rates to Wilmington that will remain in force after the proposal is adopted showing the higher rates to Wilmington. He quoted Clerk Maxwell, of the Corporation Commission, as saying that the higher rates in all the State are within ten miles of Wilmington and yet these are not reduced at all by the proposal. He pointed out that the Just Freight Rate Association, after hearing Governor Craig in advocacy of accepting the proposal voted unanimously twice that the proposal be rejected as unjust.

Mr. Dowd moved postponement of further consideration to Thursday and this in the meantime the intra-State rates and other matters like increasing the membership of the Corporation Commission be disposed of first.

Representatives Haymore and Witherspoon supported the motion of Mr. Dowd.

Mr. Justice, Ha! Ha!!

Mr. Justice intimated that the legislators were treading on dangerous ground in that the railroads might withdraw the proposal speedily. The resolution was then adopted.

Senate—Night Session.

The Senate gave lengthy consideration tonight to the resolution for the creation of a commission on rural life to be appointed by the Governor to make report and recommendations to the next General Assembly as to plans for bettering rural conditions in the State, especially the question of segregation of the races.

Senator Ward raised the issue that there could be no segregation of races in this country so far as land owning is concerned under the Federal constitution. The resolution was defeated 15 to 17.

Locals bills passed included the following: Establish stock law for Bladen county; amend road law of Nash county; amend law as to Superior Courts in Lee county; amend the law as to the bond of the treasurer of New Hanover county; reduce the number of commissioners of Columbus county; amend the law as to the disposition of public bonds in Robeson county; amend act as to the salaries of officers of Columbus county; amend the charter of Burgaw as to stock running at large; repeal the act prohibiting the scalping of witness tickets in Columbus county; bills appointing additional justices of the peace in Dare, Robeson, Edgecombe, Orange, Pitt, Graham, Wake, Forsyth, Haywood, Ashe, Hertford, Columbus, Rutherford, Duplin, Wilkes, Warren, Pitt, Bertie, Cleveland, Union counties.

The Senate adjourned to 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

SPENCER IS DRUG-CRAZY.

His Tale of a Dozen Murders is a Myth.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—Henry Spencer, whose confession that he killed a score of persons is now believed to be a fantasy of a drug-crazed mind, will be taken to Dupage, Ills., to stand trial for the murder of Mrs. Mildred Allison Rexroat. He probably will not be held here more than two days, according to the police tonight. The police do not believe they could convict him of a murder in Cook county, and will send him to Wheaton for trial.

Mrs. Sarah Schramm today identified Spencer as the man who lodged at her house last Winter and attacked her with a hammer. He was frightened away before he had seriously injured her.

tiano Carranza left Piedras Negras three months ago, ostensibly to take command or the rebel forces mobilized in the vicinity of Torreon. From that point he went westward into the State of Sonora. A number of his lieutenants, including Jesus Carranza, his brother and second in command, left Piedras Negras a few days ago, presumably to direct their troops in a battle at Peyotes, 25 miles South of the border, where it was announced a determined effort would be made to check the Northward advance of the government army. However, no resistance was offered at Peyotes, and from that point to Piedras Negras the Federals met with no opposition.

United States military authorities at Eagle Pass will make immediate representations to General Maas, urging that measures be taken to insure the protection of life and property here until the reorganization of the municipal government.

MEETING NATIONAL GUARDSMEN

Want More Sayso in Army Matters—Want Government Pay.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—Pleas for a voice in the establishment of the military policy of the United States today stirred the session of the National Guard officers in convention here.

The militiamen claimed a right even greater than that of a regular army to have something to say as to the nation's military affairs. They deplored the fact that all such questions are left to the arbitrary judgment of the secretary of war and his department pointing out that frequently the secretary of war is a man who never has been an army man.

One appeal was made by Brigadier General John C. Speak, of Columbus, Ohio, who discussed the report of the committee on revision of militia laws.

General Speak's remarks came in the course of a heated discussion of a circular of the War Department the effect of which is that the government will not recognize National officers.

General Thomas J. Stuart, of Pennsylvania, was elected president of the association, and Boston was chosen as the meeting place for 1914.

The absence of Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army, and Henry Breckenridge, assistant secretary of war from the convention was the cause of much comment among delegates today.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Assistant Secretary Breckenridge and Major Gen. Wood did not attend the convention of the National Guard Association at Chicago because Secretary Garrison decided it would be unwise for representatives of the War Department to participate in the conferences to be held there regarding a proposed bill to provide for the re-organization of the militia and the payment of militiamen by the National government. The secretary explained this tonight by making public a letter he wrote recently to Gen. Thomas H. Stewart, president of the association. In this connection Mr. Garrison spoke of his deep interest in the militia and the gratification with the work being done by the National Guard association.

"Writing to Gen. Stewart, the Secretary reviewed the history of the proposed militia bill, referring to the draft made by the executive committee of the association in collaboration with the assistant secretary of war, the chief of militia division and the judge advocate general. This draft, he said, departed so widely from what the Secretary regarded as essential in many particulars that he concluded it would be wiser to participate no further in the preparations of the bill so as not to be bound by the result.

Secretaryp Garrison holds that if the militiamen are to be paid by the Federal government they should be subject to call for duty anywhere at any time regardless of State or National lines. He objected to the original draft of the proposed bill chiefly because it did not provide for this.

CONGRESS HEARS BASEBALL.

While Waiting for Quorum Mann Plays "Bulletin Board."

Washington, Oct. 7.—Declaring the House Democrats had slumped woefully in the legislation batting averages, and in their interest in the administration game since they passed the currency bill up to the Senate, Minority Leader Mann today prevented the reference to conference of the urgent deficiency bill and turned the well of the House into an arena for a world's series baseball returns. When the deficiency bill was reported from the Senate, the minority leader made a point of no quorum. A roll call of the House showed 162 present, 53 short a quorum. The sergeant-at-arms was instructed to send for absentees.

The House then settled down for a long wait as it was known there were few more members in the city.

At 2 o'clock, with a quorum still lacking the minority leader, rising to "make a parliamentary inquiry, asked: "I wish to ask if the chair has made arrangements to inform the House of the progress of the ball game in New York?"

"That is not a parliamentary inquiry," the chairman replied, while everybody on the floor cheered.

Several vain attempts were made to adjourn, the Democrats refusing to second the motions. In the meantime the ball game had been in progress for seevral innings and some one sent the first returns to Mr. Mann.

"A parliamentary inquiry, Mr. Chairman," said the minority leader, rising. "State it," said the Speaker.

"Would it be proper to announce that the score now is 4 to 1 in favor of Philadelphia in the fourth inning?"

"Out of order," said the chair, as a messenger ran up to the minority leader with another bulletin:

"That being out of order," said Mr. Mann, rising to another parliamentary inquiry, "I would ask if it would be in order to announce that Baker, of Philadelphia, has just knocked a home run and that the score now is 5 to 1 in favor of the Athletics?"

"That is not a parliamentary inquiry," announced the chairman.

And so it went until the sixth inning, when Mr. Mann announced the score without addressing the chair and adjournment was taken.

Administration leaders tonight were dispatching telegrams to absent members in neighboring States urging them to hasten to Washington by noon tomorrow so that the deficiency bill can be disposed of.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY.

Dentist Friend of Schmidt Denies Counterfeiting.

New York, Oct. 7.—Ernest A. Muret, dentist friend of Hans Schmidt, slayer of Anna Aumuller, pleaded not guilty today to a charge of counterfeiting. He was locked up again in default of $10,000 bail.

The counterfeiting charge against Muret is an outgrowth of an investigation by detectives of Schmidt's movements prior to the murder of the Aumuller girl.

Complete counterfeiting plant and charred portions of counterfeit bills were found in a flat rented by Schmidt and Muret.

after the secret session. He said that Sulzer had asked him to obtain the offices of Delancy Nicoll, attorney for the elder Ryan, as a "go-between" in the proposed negotiations with the Tammay leader. This request, he said, the Governor made a week before the impeachment trial began and in the Governor's New York office. Ryan said he made no effort to see Mr. Nicoll.

Ryan did, however, make an effort of his own, he said, to "sound the Republican sentiment." This he did, he testified, through a "friend."

It appeared from his testimony that his friend had seen Chairman Barnes and obtained from him a statement "that the Republican organization would do nothing."

Sarecky, much heralded as the Governor's star witness, took the stand amid the craning of necks and a buzz of interest. He spoke in a high piping voice and his answers came without hesitation.

Sarecky Testifies.

"We received either from Tammany Hall or from the Secretary of State," began Sarecky, "a blank form in which a statement was to be made out of receipts and expenditures of campaign funds.

"The question came up as to whether the committee of the Governor's friends, of which I was treasurer, had the right to file a statement, inasmuch as it had neglected, or some one had neglected on behalf of the committee, to file with the Secretary of State a notice to the effect that such a committee had been formed. So some one suggested that I take the matter up with Mr. Sulzer. I went into his room and told him the quandary we were in, and he said, 'Well, make up the statement anyway, it does not matter very much who signs it, as long as we comply with the spirit of the law.' So I went outside and then worked on the statement for about a day and a half brought it into Mr. Sulzer and he signed it."

"Who, if any one, assisted you in preparing it?" asked Attorney Hinman.

"I think Mr. Horgan was the one who helped get it up. He brought an adding machine from his office and he and I worked on it and finally got it up."

The witness referred to Matthew T. Horgan, who later became secretary of the Frawley investigating committee which unearthed much of the preliminary evidence on which the impeachment articles were based.

Sulzer Didn't Help.

"Did William Sulzer have anything to do in the work of preparing that statement?"

"No sir," Sarecky declared emphatically.

"Where was Mr. Sulzer when you took the statement to him for his signature?"

"I think he was going through some of his correspondence. I said, 'Here, Congressman, is the statement which I got up. I had the first page folded over back and showed him where he was to sign. He turned it back and said, 'Is this all right?' I said 'this is as accurate as I could get it,' and he signed it. He did not hold it over a minute or two at the most—just long enough for him to sign his name."

"Why did you leave out any moneys?"

"Because I did not have any record before me at the time. I used part of the money that I deposited to my own account in settling a suit out West that had been brought against Mr. Sulzer during the campaign."

"Did you confer with Mr. Sulzer before you did that"

"I did not."

"For what other purpose had moneys deposited by you in this bank account been used? Moneys which do not apear in this campaign statement?"

"I cannot recollect now just for what purpose I did use them, but I know I used some for purposes which were not campaign purposes."

Saracky testified that Alfred J. Wolff, the commissioner of deeds, who had knowledge of Sulzer's signature had not read the oath to the Governor or even seen him sign it. When Wolff was a witness for the assembly managers he testified he had read the subscribers oath to Sulzer and had personally witnessed the Governor's signature.

MR. SIMMONS TALKS.

Appointments Temporarily Held Up—Conference With the President.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 7.—Senator Simmons told your correspondent tonight that he had decided not to make any recommendations for the district attorneyship nor for United States marshal for the eastern half of the State until he returns to Washington from his ten days' vacation on his farm near Newbern. The Senior Senator had intended making these recommendations before going home, but circumstances have made it necessary that he postpone the appointments until the latter part of the month. The Reidsville, marshal and Laurinburg postmastership will likewise have to wait until he gets back to the National capital.

At the request of President Wilson the Senior North Carolina Senator held a two hours' conference with the President tonight. It is understood that Mr. Wilson wanted Mr. Simmons to "help out" on the currency bill and Mr. Simmons will lend a helping hand in this important legislation, although he is not a member of the Banking and Currency Committee. BRYAN AT SPARTANBURG.

Addresses Large Crowd in South Carolina Town.

Spartanburg, S. C., Oct. 7.—In an address before a large audience here tonight William J. Bryan, Secretary of State, styled Woodrow Wilson the greatest intellectual force who has ever occupied the White House. He stressed the President's fight for tariff reform, his efforts making for the passage of the currency bill, and said the great peace movement which over 30 nations have endorsed, originated with President Wilson.

Secretary Bryan, accompanied by Mrs. Bryan, came across country in an automobile from the celebration at Kings Mountain this afternoon and are the guests of former Governor John Gary Evans. He and Mrs. Bryan will leave for Asheville tomorrow morning.

BITS OF HISTORY.

THE CHICAGO FIRE

On October 8, 1871, Mrs. O'Leary's Cow kicked over the lantern and the city of Chicago was during the next two days almost completely burned. Out of the ashes immediately rose a city which, for its age, is the greatest the world has ever seen. The things that made the present city possible were ambition, determination and faith in the future.

Such attributes applied to our daily affairs would make us all independent in a few short years. Nearly every man can earn more than he is earning and can get along on less than he is spending.
